Winds, Tides Batter Coast In Northeast

20 Deaths Caused By 'Killer' Storm; Damage Runs High

By The Associated Press

The remnants of a killer storm, shorn of snow and freezing rain but strong in battering winds and inundating tides, continued to lash the populous Northeast today.

The storm, by far the area's worst of a waning winter, was born of systems that converged from the west and south and hurtled up the Eastern seaboard Tuesday, piling up to three feet of snow in some inland areas and flooding vast coastal areas.

At least 20 deaths were attributed to the storm. At least that many more were missing and hundreds had been evacuated. Damage was expected to run into the millions of dollars.

Winds at 40-50 m.p.h. with higher gusts were expected to pound the area north from Virginia into central New England through most of the day.

Tides running 3 to 5 feet above normal promised little relief for the coastal areas flooded at the height of the storm. Tides accounted for a lion's share of the deaths.

At Dover, Del., five children—members of the John A. Waters family—drowned as they started to flee the flooded shoreline of Delaware Bay. A sixth child was missing and presumed drowned.

Two New Jersey couples were washed away and declared missing Tuesday night when a Coast Guard amphibious vessel evacuating them was smothered by a 10-foot wave near Beach Haven Inlet. Three other evacuees and two Coast Guard men managed to hang on.

There were other known storm dead in New Jersey, Maryland, New York and North Carolina—through drownings, electrocutions from fallen wires, highway accidents and heart failures.

Schools were closed in many places. Thousands of homes were without power for hours.

Atlantic City, N.J., and Ocean City, N.J., two famed shore resorts, were completely cut off from the mainland at the height of the storm when winds reached 75 m.p.h. and 20-foot waves poured ashore.

Station Wagon Drifts And Strikes Another

A driverless station wagon drifted away from the curb on Cadmus St. about 7 p. m. Tuesday and struck another parked vehicle, police reported.

A 1959 station wagon owned by Victor M. Dorrell, 810 Cadmus St., coasted downgrade and hit the rear of a parked 1958 station wagon owned by Ray E. Diddle of Purinton Ave., officers said.

Dorrell told police he parked the vehicle about 6:45 and a neighbor notified him 15 minutes later it had drifted away. There was damage to the entire front of Dorrell's vehicle and the rear of Diddle's, officers said.

City Schools Re-Open

Business Area's Snow Removed

The city's commercial life bounced back into high gear today after a crew of 27 men and 15 pieces of equipment and rolling stock worked throughout the night to clear away a deep accumulation of snow in the business district.

Crowds of shoppers jammed downtown sidewalks this morning and the streets were lined solidly with parked autos as traffic conditions returned to near normal, at least in the heart of the city.

Parking meter enforcement, called off Tuesday after the storm, was resumed today in the cleared stretches — embracing virtually all of the metered zone.

But most garbage and trash collections still were suspended today. Two incinerator department trucks continued the job of aiding the street department's crews and rented equipment in removal of the snow.

The snow-removal operation last night was made up of four high-lifts, eight trucks and three graders. The 27-man crew included street and incinerator department employes, men working with shovels to clear sidewalks and the operators of the hired equipment.

The cleared area at mid-morning included E. and W. 5th and 6th Sts. between Jackson and Walnut Sts., the Diamond and Washington, Market and Jackson Sts. between 6th and 4th Sts.

St. Clair Ave. and Broadway were cleared between 6th St. and the Horn Switch to assure runs could be made quickly from Central fire station.

Work was continuing on E. 4th St., Broadway and several other areas. The west side of Dresden Ave. has been cleared from the Diamond to W. 9th St.

Safety-Service Director Robert Owen stayed up all night to direct the snow-removal job and continued at his desk this morning.

"The men did a beautiful job," the director commented today. "Everyone connected with the work should be commended for fine work."

The snow-removal crews took a break at 7 this morning for breakfast, then most went back to the job. However, only one piece of rented equipment was retained after 7 a. m.

Of four high-lifts that were used, three were rented. The city rented two trucks to supplement the three incinerator department and three street department trucks on the job. One of the rented graders was a 12-ton model obtained from Chapin & Chapin, Inc., a freeway contractor.

Part of Mulberry St. was cleared last night — a short stretch on which snow was shoveled onto trucks by hand, Owen said. Part of Broadway between E. 6th and 5th Sts. also was cleared by this morning. Work remained to be done on Walnut St.

Hand-shoveling crews tossed the heavy accumulation of snow off sidewalks into the street. Then the graders built it into big windrows in the middle of the street, where the high-lifts could scoop it up and load it onto the trucks. The trucks hauled the snow to the riverfront to dump it.

Recent Snow Second Greatest In County

The snow of Monday and Tuesday was the second greatest 24-hour accumulation on record in Columbiana County, according to Edwin Copeland, U. S. weather observer at Millport.

He registered a total of 12 inches from the storm that ended yesterday. The record 24-hour fall was the 17 inches of April 20, 1901. Some 22.4 inches fell during a storm in November 1950, but it was spread over seven days. The "snowiest" March was that of 1906—22 inches.

Inoculation Plans Pushed

Sabin Vaccine Effective Against All 3 Polio Types

Why Sabin polio vaccine?

A lot of Columbiana County residents are posing that question as final preparations are being made for mass clinics throughout the county March 21 and 24.

The Columbiana County Medical Society, sponsoring the clinics at which the oral vaccine for Type I polio will be made available, is urging that everyone over 6 weeks old get the immunization.

The Sabin vaccine, taken by mouth, not only provides immunization against polio for those without inoculation, but increases the protection for those who received the Salk vaccine previously.

Physicians explain there are three different known types of virus which cause poliomyelitis. In order to be protected fully against the disease, an individual must be protected against the three types.

The Salk vaccine is produced from a dead virus, and the three types of vaccine combined for a series of four hypodermic injections over a period of seven months.

The Sabin vaccine is a live virus vaccine which has been modified or weakened to produce immunity without resulting in a clinical illness.

The Sabin vaccines are separate for each type of polio, and are given by mouth separately four to six weeks apart. Immunity usually results within a week, thus greater immunity can be acquired more quickly against Types I, II and III of the viruses.

Because the oral vaccine usually produces an intestinal barrier against infection, it is expected

Patrol Checks On 4 More Road Mishaps

9 Occur In County Tuesday After Snow Slickens Highways

At least four area accidents were under investigation this morning, the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon reported, after nine occurred Tuesday on the district's snow-covered and icy roads.

Officers were checking a reported mishap on the East Liverpool-Wellsville Super-road just east of Wellsville, another just south of the patrol post on Route 30 near Lisbon, a third on Route 45 near Salem and another on Route 14 near Firestone Farms.

All mishaps were reported after 7 a. m. The patrol said only one person was reported injured—a man received a leg bruise.

Roads this morning were reported slushy, and main highways were in good condition.

Area roads were described as "bad" overnight, but no mishaps were reported after 6:30, officers said.

A truck operated by Elmer Riggs, 41, of R.D. 3 was struck on a tire by an Ohio Highway Department truck with snow plow on Route 7 just north of Route 30 about 3:10 p. m. The state truck, driven by William L. Payne, 23, of Claibourne St., veered when it passed over an icy patch.

A car operated by Keith Edward Harrison, 21, of 517 College St. was struck by a station wagon driven by Carl E. Woodruff, 56, of New Springfield on Route 7 about a mile north of Route 14 yesterday.

Woodruff's station wagon skidded past a stop sign into the path of the car driven by the city motorist. Woodruff was cited for reckless operation.

John Drovdlic, 47, of Lisbon R. D. 5 backed out of a private drive on Route 30, about three miles west of Lisbon, into the path of a car driven by Vincent Korie, 31, of Canton. Korie swerved off the road to avoid the crash. Drovdlic was charged with failure to yield the right-of-way.

Robert A. Krimer, 54, of Akron was cited for traveling at a speed in excess of safe road conditions after his rig struck an approaching tractor operated by William Paloun, 39, of Hinckley on Route 7 just north of Rogers yesterday.

Wheeling Firm Low For Chester Project

The Tri-State Asphalt Corp. of Wheeling has submitted low bids to the West Virginia State Road Commission in Charleston for two projects in Hancock County.

The firm bid $23,178 for resurfacing of 0.92 mile of Cove Rd. on alternate U. S. Route 22 in Weirton, and $10,111 for resurfacing half a mile of Carolina Ave. (Route 30) in Chester.

The firm also bid $61,486 for resurfacing 2.3 miles of the National Road in Triadelphia on U.S. 40 in Ohio County.

Low bids totaling $800,000 were submitted to the State Road Commission for 50 miles of highway improvements in 10 counties.

Indictment Upheld Against Firm For Number Slip Case

State Victor In Move To Force Trial

Defense Has Until April 6 To Oppose Attorney General

LISBON — A Common Pleas Court dismissal of gambling law indictments against the Lisbon Salesbook Co. was overruled Tuesday by the 7th District Court of Appeals, apparently clearing the way for a trial for the firm and its four officers linked to a numbers law violation.

The appellate tribunal in its session here yesterday upheld Ohio Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy's appeal of Judge Joel H. Sharp's Dec. 14 dismissal of the indictments against the firm.

Judge Sharp had ruled the new anti - gambling law under which the concern had been indicted for illegally printing numbers slips was inconsistent with the federal and state constitutions.

Assistant Atty. Gen. John Gleason, through Prosecutor G. William Brokaw's office, appealed the Common Pleas ruling.

The firm was indicted after a sudden raid on its plant Sept. 6—less than a week after the new tighter Ohio law went into effect.

Indicted were the firm and its four officers — Martin Sufrin, Isadore Sufrin, Joseph Sufrin and Michael Schidlmeier, all of Pittsburgh.

Atty. William Moore of Lisbon, counsel for the firm, was granted until April 6 to file briefs in the case.

Steubenville Adopts City Income Tax

STEUBENVILLE — A six-tenths of one per cent city income tax ordinance was enacted by City Council at a special meeting Tuesday night, by a 6-3 vote.

Five Republicans and one Democrat favored the ordinance, and three Democrats opposed.

Because the ordinance contained an emergency clause, it became effective when Mayor Andrew W. Miller affixed his signature shortly after enactment.

Collection of the tax, amounting to 60 cents on each $100 income, will not begin until April 1, however.

The tax will effect the income of residents and non-residents working here and also the net income of local businesses as well as out-of-town firms doing business in Steubenville.

The tax during a full year will produce an estimated $600,000 additional revenue for general municipal operations, maintenance, new equipment, extension and enlargement of municipal services and facilities, and capital improvements, sponsors said.

According to the ordinance, the tax will remain in effect for five years.

The city solicitor, Atty. Leroy Schell, most vigorous opponent of the new income tax ordinance and two others in the past, predicted a much shorter life, however.

He told Council the life expectancy of the ordinance will be seven and a half-months, and "I confidently predict its defeat in an initiative election in November."

He informed Council that preparation of an initiative petition for repeal of the tax ordinance is already under way.

U2 Pilot Cleared

Powers To Hold Post With CIA

WASHINGTON (AP) — Praise from several senators has capped Francis Gary Powers' story of his U2 flight over the Soviet Union, his capture and imprisonment in one of the cold war's hottest episodes.

It was an exciting story the soft-spoken pilot told Tuesday in a 90-minute appearance before the Senate Armed Services Committee—of a mystery explosion 12 miles up, a spinning plane and long hours of questioning.

Then as secretly as he came, the high altitude flier slipped away for a vacation.

CIA Director John A. McCone told reporters Powers will continue to be employed by the CIA.

"We have additional work for him to do," McCone said. "I hope today's hearing has cleared up any cloud that may have been hanging over him."

After the hearing Powers linked his arms with two sisters and went off for what he said will be a vacation at an unannounced place. He indicated he plans no news conference such as President Kennedy said the pilot would be free to hold.

In the faint country twang of southwest Virginia Powers told the committee in a packed hearing room, where spectators often broke into applause, that he doesn't really know what caused the explosion that downed his plane.

He said the blast, which fired the sky with orange, "sounded like a 'shump.'" He conceded it might have come from a near-miss by a Soviet rocket.

Powers' recital of his efforts to destroy the secret equipment in his stricken craft, his agonizing fight to get out of the U2 and his disposal of a map while riding his parachute down obviously impressed senators and spectators.

Senators nodded approval as he testified that when his efforts to invent a cover story failed he decided to tell the Russians he was linked with the CIA—as he said he had been instructed to do if he was captured—but withheld some vital information.

The biggest outburst of applause came when Powers raised his voice to say that during his ordeal of capture, imprisonment, endless hours of questioning, trial and sentence he always remembered that "I am an American."

At another point he cried loudly, "Oh, no" when he was asked if he were under obligation to kill himself if captured.

Even before Powers testified

Astronaut Deke Slayton

Next U.S. Man In Orbit Had Early Desire To Fly

SPARTA, Wis. (AP)—"Don was a determined boy, who knew where he was going."

There are many other recollections of the astronaut by family and friends.

He played a trombone for four years in the high school band, and was proud of the uniform; he raised a prize sheep and won a blue ribbon, and sometimes he ran the five miles from school to his farm home to keep in shape for the track team; he has 3,600 hours in the air, and he told his mother the wildest ride of his life was in a taxi cab taking him from one Chicago airport to another.

For Don Slayton—he did not become Deke until Air Force buddies made a nickname of his initials—the urge for wings came early. The Sparta High School yearbook said of him in his junior year that his theme song was "keep 'em flying."

Walter Pribnow, who was Slayton's science instructor and now is superintendent of schools at Appleton, Wis., remembered that during Don's senior year he took a special interest in an aeronautical text.

"We made black airplane models for identification," Pribnow said. "Don was a determined boy, who knew where he was going."

Slayton was born, 38 years ago last week, in the Sparta hospital to Charles Slayton and his second wife, Victoria, both of Norwegian stock, and spent his boyhood on the family farm near the town of Leon.

He was graduated from Leon

Modern Light System Eyed In Downtown

Business Property Owners Would Pay For Higher Costs

The East Liverpool Merchants Association decided Tuesday to move ahead with plans to provide a modern streetlighting system in the business district at private expense.

The businessmen agreed to proceed with preparation of petitions asking Council's consent in the program, under which property-owners would foot the bill for the difference between the cost of the present lighting system and the fixtures proposed by the merchants.

Using powerful, large fluorescent lights of a type demonstrated more than a year ago along E. 5th St., the system would cover all the downtown shopping area, under the merchants' proposal.

The fixtures would be installed on 6th St. and 5th St. from City Hall to Broadway, E. 4th St. from Cherry Alley to Market St. and Washington and Market Sts. between 4th and 6th Sts.

Under the merchants' plan, property - owners would agree to be billed on a foot frontage basis for their share of the difference in the cost of the two lighting systems.

The petition will seek Council's approval of the program and request that the city agree to assess the property-owners — assuming their prior approval — for the lighting project.

In the fall of 1960, several of the fluorescent fixtures were installed on a trial basis along E. 5th St. near Washington St. to show merchants and shoppers how they would boost the illumination in the shopping district.

The streetlighting proposal represents the culmination of several years' work by the ELMA downtown improvement committee.

The businessmen held a lengthy discussion yesterday on a propos-

According to the ordinance, the tax will remain in effect for five years.

The city solicitor, Atty. Leroy Schell, most vigorous opponent of the new income tax ordinance and two others in the past, predicted a much shorter life, however.

He told Council the life expectancy of the ordinance will be seven and a half-months, and "I confidently predict its defeat in an initiative election in November."

He informed Council that preparation of an initiative petition for repeal of the tax ordinance is already under way.

U2 Pilot Cleared

Powers To Hold Post With CIA

WASHINGTON (AP) — Praise from several senators has capped Francis Gary Powers' story of his U2 flight over the Soviet Union, his capture and imprisonment in one of the cold war's hottest episodes.

It was an exciting story the soft-spoken pilot told Tuesday in a 90-minute appearance before the Senate Armed Services Committee—of a mystery explosion 12 miles up, a spinning plane and long hours of questioning.

Then as secretly as he came, the high altitude flier slipped away for a vacation.

CIA Director John A. McCone told reporters Powers will continue to be employed by the CIA.

"We have additional work for him to do," McCone said. "I hope today's hearing has cleared up any cloud that may have been hanging over him."

After the hearing Powers linked his arms with two sisters and went off for what he said will be a vacation at an unannounced place. He indicated he plans no news conference such as President Kennedy said the pilot would be free to hold.

In the faint country twang of southwest Virginia Powers told the committee in a packed hearing room, where spectators often broke into applause, that he doesn't really know what caused the explosion that downed his plane.

He said the blast, which fired the sky with orange, "sounded like a 'shump.'" He conceded it might have come from a near-miss by a Soviet rocket.

Powers' recital of his efforts to destroy the secret equipment in his stricken craft, his agonizing fight to get out of the U2 and his disposal of a map while riding his parachute down obviously impressed senators and spectators.

Senators nodded approval as he testified that when his efforts to invent a cover story failed he decided to tell the Russians he was linked with the CIA—as he said he had been instructed to do if he was captured—but withheld some vital information.

The biggest outburst of applause came when Powers raised his voice to say that during his ordeal of capture, imprisonment, endless hours of questioning, trial and sentence he always remembered that "I am an American."

At another point he cried loudly, "Oh, no" when he was asked if he were under obligation to kill himself if captured.

Even before Powers testified

Modern Light System Eyed In Downtown

Business Property Owners Would Pay For Higher Costs

The East Liverpool Merchants Association decided Tuesday to move ahead with plans to provide a modern streetlighting system in the business district at private expense.

The businessmen agreed to proceed with preparation of petitions asking Council's consent in the program, under which property-owners would foot the bill for the difference between the cost of the present lighting system and the fixtures proposed by the merchants.

Using powerful, large fluorescent lights of a type demonstrated more than a year ago along E. 5th St., the system would cover all the downtown shopping area, under the merchants' proposal.

The fixtures would be installed on 6th St. and 5th St. from City Hall to Broadway, E. 4th St. from Cherry Alley to Market St. and Washington and Market Sts. between 4th and 6th Sts.

Under the merchants' plan, property - owners would agree to be billed on a foot frontage basis for their share of the difference in the cost of the two lighting systems.

The petition will seek Council's approval of the program and request that the city agree to assess the property-owners — assuming their prior approval — for the lighting project.

In the fall of 1960, several of the fluorescent fixtures were installed on a trial basis along E. 5th St. near Washington St. to show merchants and shoppers how they would boost the illumination in the shopping district.

The streetlighting proposal represents the culmination of several years' work by the ELMA downtown improvement committee.

Next U.S. Man In Orbit Had Early Desire To Fly

SPARTA, Wis. (AP)—"Don was a determined boy, who knew where he was going."

There are many other recollections of the astronaut by family and friends.

He played a trombone for four years in the high school band, and was proud of the uniform; he raised a prize sheep and won a blue ribbon, and sometimes he ran the five miles from school to his farm home to keep in shape for the track team; he has 3,600 hours in the air, and he told his mother the wildest ride of his life was in a taxi cab taking him from one Chicago airport to another.

For Don Slayton—he did not become Deke until Air Force buddies made a nickname of his initials—the urge for wings came early. The Sparta High School yearbook said of him in his junior year that his theme song was "keep 'em flying."

Walter Pribnow, who was Slayton's science instructor and now is superintendent of schools at Appleton, Wis., remembered that during Don's senior year he took a special interest in an aeronautical text.

"We made black airplane models for identification," Pribnow said. "Don was a determined boy, who knew where he was going."

Slayton was born, 38 years ago last week, in the Sparta hospital to Charles Slayton and his second wife, Victoria, both of Norwegian stock, and spent his boyhood on the family farm near the town of Leon.

He was graduated from Leon

Peace Accord Looms

Final Talks Open In Algeria Issue

EVIAN, France (AP)—French and Algerian rebel officials sat down at the conference table again today for what may be the final round of talks in their long search for an agreement to end the Algerian rebellion.

Louis Joxe, French minister for Algerian affairs, headed the French negotiators waiting in Evian's Hotel du Marc to hammer out final details of an accord providing for a cease-fire and referendum to give independence to strife-torn Algeria.

Amid widespread expectations that a peace agreement would be reached in a matter of days, violence and bloodshed continued unabated in Algeria. Tuesday's toll there was 24 killed and 32 wounded as the rightiest European Secret Army Organization bent on keeping French control of the territory, kept up terror raids, and the Moslems retaliated.

Krim predicted "a lasting, satisfactory and happy solution" as he arrived in nearby Geneva.

Carrying on from recent secret negotiations, the two sides will try to fill the gaps in their tentative accord. They already have agreed on general provisions of the accord calling for Algerian self-determination and eventual independence for Algeria's 10 million people—90 per cent of them North Africans.

A cease-fire proclamation may end the war between the rebels and the French army. But the peace agreement is expected to intensify the terrorist campaign by European settlers who bitterly oppose an independent Algeria which the Moslem majority will control.

Algerian spokesmen have complained that President Charles de Gaulle's government and the French army have not been as energetic as they could be in combating the European terrorists. They charge that many French officers sympathize with the secret army and some officers are actual accomplices.

One point still to be settled in the Evian talks is the future role of the French army in checking terrorism and preventing an uprising by the European population of Algeria.

The tentative accord reportedly runs to about 100 pages, to be issued as a joint statement of French and rebel intentions, once the cease-fire has been proclaimed.

Red Guerrillas Kill 24 South Vietnamese

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Communist guerrillas reportedly ambushed an under-strength company of South Vietnamese rangers in the Mekong River delta Tuesday, killing 24 government troops, capturing five and leaving seven wounded.

It was the fourth considerable success for the Viet Cong guerrillas in South Viet Nam's southern and delta provinces in two weeks. In the same period government forces have reported two victories in which more than 100 Viet Cong troops were killed and hundreds wounded.

Monmouth County, N. J., with much of its eastern section blitzed, in the word of one official, was declared a disaster areas. A state of emergency was declared at Brick Township in New Jersey, and police used school buses, garbage trucks and other vehicles to evacuate 22 people and three dogs along submerged Route 35.

At Sea Isle City, N.J., five Roman Catholic nuns were evacuated from their flood-threatened convent by Coast Guard boats.

Hotels in downtown Philadelphia were filled with storm refugees. That city's suburban trolly line system was knocked out at the height of the storm. In metropolitan New York, ferry service was suspended for a time between New Jersey and New York, and Manhattan and Staten Island.

While New York City escaped the full force of the storm, it was lashed by winds of 60 m.p.h. that cloaked skyscrapers in rapidly melting coats of snow and ice. Some low-lying sections were flooded by the surging tides.

A South Shore branch of the Long Island Rail Road was knocked out for two hours when high tides flooded the third rail. The flooding Passaic River marooned 494 rush hour commuters aboard a Hudson River tube train for 3½ hours.

The 40-foot yacht Guinevere out of New York was missing in stormy seas off the South Carolina coast with three persons aboard. Off the New Jersey coast, a destroyer in tow with no one aboard broke loose and ran aground.

Crews of two Texas Towers, totaling 132 men, rode out the storm off Provincetown, Mass., and Nantucket. In a 1961 storm, 28 persons died in the collapse of a similar tower off the New Jersey coast. The towers are part of the nation's offshore radar warning system.

For residents of the storm area's southern fringe, this was a day of digging out of monstrous snow drifts and trying to keep ahead in areas where snow continued to fall.

Virginia's Shenandoah Valley reported its deepest accumulation in history, with up to two feet in Winchester and Harrisonburg. It was still snowing heavily early today in the Richmond, Va., area where 12 inches already was on the ground.

Scores of Virginia highways were blocked by snow drifts and jackknifed trucks, and some motorists were stranded for almost 24 hours. There was a 70-mile traffic jam on heavily traveled U.S. 1 Tuesday.

There was a general warming trend in the central part of the nation but unseasonable cold weather was reported in most of the Southeast. Light snow fell in sections of North Carolina and temperatures dropped into the 30s in northern Florida and freezing in some Southeast sections.

Snow Mishap Injures Boy

A 13-year-old East End boy, bowled over by a huge snowball beside his home Tuesday, is in "fair" condition today at City Hospital with fractures of the wrist and other injuries.

Two area women and a district youngster were treated yesterday and today at the hospital following separate mishaps.

Vernon L. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Smith, 1161 Harker Ave., was admitted early yesterday afternoon with fractures of the right wrist, bruises of the face and possible knee injuries in the encounter with the "snow man."

An older brother had constructed the huge ball of heavy wet snow on a nearby hill and was rolling it down to a lower level. Vernon, a seventh grade student at East Junior High, volunteered to stop the rolling ball, but it slammed into him and pinned him to the ground.

Bertha Brown, 408 Grant St., Newell, was treated for a fractured thumb received in a fall on the sidewalk at home.

Powers

the CIA said in a report the 32-year-old pilot had lived up to his instructions and "his obligations as an American." The report said he would get his back pay, amounting to about $50,000.

Not all the senators commented during the session, but Sen. Leverett Saltonstall, R-Mass., led off the praise when he told the flier he wanted to commend him as a "courageous, fine young American citizen who lived up to his instructions and did the best you could under very difficult circumstances."

Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., said he was "satisfied to learn you have been fully exonerated."

Sen. Prescott Bush, R-Conn., commented he was satisfied Powers had "conducted himself in an exemplary fashion and in accordance with the highest traditions of the country."

Others commending Powers were Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., and J. Glenn Beall, R-Md.

When he was winging high over the Ural Sea he saw two vapor trails far below him that might come from Soviet jets hunting for him. "I don't think they ever saw me," said Powers.

When he had landed by parachute he saw another parachute in the sky, not a part of his plane's equipment. At the time, he said he speculated it might be a parachute bringing back part of a fired Russian rocket.

The Soviets claim a rocket shot down the U2. Powers apparently was convinced it was a near miss, and no hit.

Powers said, "I feel that the explosion was external to the aircraft and behind me, but I really don't know."

He said his first reaction was to reach for what he called the "destruct switches." These were connected to a 2½-pound charge set to damage the photographic equipment.

While Powers never made it clear if this also would destroy the plane, Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., said such a charge would have been highly damaging to the plane itself. Goldwater is a reserve Air Force general.

Powers said there was a good reason why he couldn't use the pilot ejection mechanism provided in the plane.

"In this particular aircraft," he said, "there isn't much clearance between the pilot's knees and the top of the windshield. If I had used the ejection seat at that time I would probably have lost both legs just above the knees."

Powers said he tried to invent a story that he was off course but the Soviets wouldn't buy it as they had found the poison needle, maps of the Soviet Union, Russian rubles and other equipment.

Powers said he was questioned as much as 10 or 12 hours daily for some time. He said he was not mistreated.

Although his orders gave him authority to cooperate and answer most questions, Powers said, he was a reluctant witness under pre-trial interrogation.

Did the Russians misquote him as having said he made a terrible mistake in flying a mission over Soviet soil and was sorry?

"No," he said, "that wasn't a misquotation. I made this statement on the advice of my defense counsel, and also because it was easy to say I was sorry. What I meant by saying that, and what I wanted them to think I meant was quite different.

"My main sorrow was that my mission failed, and I was sorry that I was there and it was causing a lot of adverse publicity to the States."

However, a decision was postponed pending a vote at the next meeting April 3. The proposal for the survey has been aired several times. At the February meeting, it was referred to the Executive Committee for investigation.

Discussion was held on the annual spring outing, which will be held in May. A committee will report on definite plans at the next meeting. In previous years, the outing has been highlighted by a trip via chartered bus to Pittsburgh to attend a Pirate baseball game.

the CIA said in a report the 32-year-old pilot had lived up to his instructions and "his obligations as an American." The report said he would get his back pay, amounting to about $50,000.

Not all the senators commented during the session, but Sen. Leverett Saltonstall, R-Mass., led off the praise when he told the flier he wanted to commend him as a "courageous, fine young American citizen who lived up to his instructions and did the best you could under very difficult circumstances."

Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., said he was "satisfied to learn you have been fully exonerated."

Sen. Prescott Bush, R-Conn., commented he was satisfied Powers had "conducted himself in an exemplary fashion and in accordance with the highest traditions of the country."

Others commending Powers were Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., and J. Glenn Beall, R-Md.

When he was winging high over the Ural Sea he saw two vapor trails far below him that might come from Soviet jets hunting for him. "I don't think they ever saw me," said Powers.

When he had landed by parachute he saw another parachute in the sky, not a part of his plane's equipment. At the time, he said he speculated it might be a parachute bringing back part of a fired Russian rocket.

The Soviets claim a rocket shot down the U2. Powers apparently was convinced it was a near miss, and no hit.

Powers said, "I feel that the explosion was external to the aircraft and behind me, but I really don't know."

He said his first reaction was to reach for what he called the "destruct switches." These were connected to a 2½-pound charge set to damage the photographic equipment.

While Powers never made it clear if this also would destroy the plane, Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., said such a charge would have been highly damaging to the plane itself. Goldwater is a reserve Air Force general.

Powers said there was a good reason why he couldn't use the pilot ejection mechanism provided in the plane.

"In this particular aircraft," he said, "there isn't much clearance between the pilot's knees and the top of the windshield. If I had used the ejection seat at that time I would probably have lost both legs just above the knees."

Powers said he tried to invent a story that he was off course but the Soviets wouldn't buy it as they had found the poison needle, maps of the Soviet Union, Russian rubles and other equipment.

Powers said he was questioned as much as 10 or 12 hours daily for some time. He said he was not mistreated.

Although his orders gave him authority to cooperate and answer most questions, Powers said, he was a reluctant witness under pre-trial interrogation.

Did the Russians misquote him as having said he made a terrible mistake in flying a mission over Soviet soil and was sorry?

"No," he said, "that wasn't a misquotation. I made this statement on the advice of my defense counsel, and also because it was easy to say I was sorry. What I meant by saying that, and what I wanted them to think I meant was quite different.

"My main sorrow was that my mission failed, and I was sorry that I was there and it was causing a lot of adverse publicity to the States."

That's Where The Money Goes

It's always harder to think calmly about the high cost of national defense when income tax returns are being filed for possible review and recriminations if Internal Revenue Service agents don't like the looks of things.

In the 12 months starting July 1 the ever-rising cost of national defense is scheduled to go past $51 billion. Currently, the government is spending at a rate of $47½ billion. The projected budget for the fiscal year starting July 1, 1963, calls for still another boost — from $51 billion to $52½ billion. The United States is within statistical reaching distance of spending two-thirds of all its budget on national defense — even more than that if the cost of paying for consequences of previous wars and the wanton waste that accompanies war is considered.

War and waste are inseparable. Sometimes the relationship seems closer than it does at other times. A current example is the B-70 warplane.

The B-70 is a superplane so complex it usually is spoken of as a "weapons system." For a number of years it has preoccupied the thoughts of some of our foremost air strategists. Its stoutest advocate is Gen. Curtis E. Lemay, Air Force chief of staff, who has made a B-70 project his personal project as the head of the U. S. Air Force.

The catch is that the B-70, which already has cost as much in the planning stage as some former military planes cost to put into production, is considered to be obsolete before it's built. It has been supplanted in military strategy by missiles.

Essentially, the B-70 is only the last word in high-altitude supersonic bombers, the ultimate refinement of the bomber era. Gen. Lemay can think of it that way and still justify its development. Because he is respected, no one wants to reject his point of view, though equally respected men feel that additional money spent on a supersonic bomber would be the equivalent of spending money to breed a better strain of cavalry horses.

Therefore, they have been talking about splitting the difference. Instead of spending another half-billion dollars on B-70 development in the next budget, to go with $800 million spent so far, they will spend an even billion, just to make certain nothing is overlooked.

That's where the money goes in national defense. There is no point at which a national defender ever says, "This is all the defense we need. I can't think of anything else that would be worth having."

No End Of Questions

To the best knowledge of a board of questioners appointed to probe the incident that caused Francis Gary Powers and his U2 plane to fall into Russian hands in 1961, the aviator has nothing to be ashamed of officially.

There will be, of course, no end of questions in the minds of his critics, who will continue to be certain that he never should have let himself and his plane be captured.

These people are certain of many things about the U2 incident that shocked us all in 1960 — sure that the United States shouldn't have been spying on Russian territory from high-altitude planes, sure that the Powers mission shouldn't have been flown on the eve of an international conference, sure that the young aviator should have killed himself, sure that somebody must have done something wrong, sure that the United States never should have been embarrassed by the U2 incident.

Everything depends on how the incident is viewed.

Some of us were not embarrassed. We were glad to know U2 flights had been commonplace; that the Powers mishap was the first failure in a successful project of espionage that had been going on for years.

Some of us were not distraught because Powers had not destroyed himself. We doubted that critics who screamed he should have taken his own life would have taken theirs, and we felt we should be courteous enough to a fellow countryman to wait until his side of the story had been told back home.

He has been telling it for weeks to a board of health. Belatedly, some of his wilder critics now should cool down and do likewise. When Powers reads some of their slanders—if he ever gets around to them—he might want to punch some of them in the nose to see if their hearts are as big as their mouths.

A Neighbor's View

The following editorial, with the heading "Taxes Aid Progress", is reprinted from The Salem News:

Threatened again by serious financial difficulties, the City Council at East Liverpool has passed an emergency income tax of eight-tenths of one per cent.

It marks the fifth time that the Pottery City has enacted a wage tax in the face of stubborn opposition from a segment of the citizenry which doesn't seem to care whether their community keeps pace with advancements made by other Ohio cities.

Thank goodness that here in Salem we have the dedicated, optimistic, civic-minded brand of residents who want our city to progress and are glad to contribute to its maintenance and future planning through an income tax now in its second year of operation.

It is not our intention to project ourselves into the affairs of another city, but since East Liverpool, like Salem, is one of Columbiana County's major communities, we feel that all people of the county have a certain degree of responsibility to each other and that, collectively, we can work to attain new, important goals. We don't think that even the East Liverpool tax opponents would want to hamper their own city's progress, let alone the advancement of the district as a whole. After all, they, too, would benefit.

Reasonable taxes are as necessary today as they were in the days of Augustus Caesar.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Col. Glenn's recent visit to U.N. and plea for international orbits under U.N. control makes you wonder how anybody would get off ground under organization routines. It has trouble enough getting a resolution off the pad, let alone a man.

The moment a diplomat in U.N. rises to speak on any subject he faces harassing obstacles.

Penetrating the areas of abstentions, double talk and compromise is almost impossible. Colonel Glenn flew three times around the earth in less time than it takes United Nations to fly once around adoption of an agenda.

No reentry problems bother U.N. delegates as they penetrate regions of unlimited oratory. Were any astronaut to try global orbits under U.N. direction, important question of safety equipment might be blocked by an argument over procedural rules. Possible recording of words between U.N. and astronaut on such a flight:

Query: "Shall I continue?" Clearly heard, as was U.N. reply "Can't answer until all delegates have time to consult their governments."

"Astronaut: I am in a little trouble up here.

U.N.: If you think you are in trouble you should see what's going on down here.

LATER: Astronaut half-way around on second U.N. orbit reports indication his escape hatch may be out of order.

U.N. says, "Don't worry. Security Council will consider this in a few weeks."

As second trip near completion query is heard, "What about a third trip around?" Reply is "Just put this to vote. Abstentions prevented necessary two-thirds vote to proceed. Will take recount."

Astronaut (completing third orbit): Must know what to do now?

U.N.: Soviet delegate has just begun speech declaring you are in orbit in violation of CHARTER. You may have to stay up for week.

There are nearly 17 million people who have reached retirement age of 65, and C. S. Lavin, buyer of Casa Marina, says old hotels, closed or operated at loss, can be bought and enjoyed by retired folks on self-service plan. No bellhops, maids, porters, etc. Guests take care of own room or rooms. If they can help with maintenance of hotel and grounds they get a discount. Eisler Has Berlin Headache

By Victor Riesel

A fellow I once hit when he attempted—successfully—to keep me from covering a Communist parley in New York, has distinguished himself a second time. In Berlin the other day he thundered across "The Wall": "Go to Hell, Little Monster." The thunderer is Gerhard Eisler, "Little Baggy Pants," we called him—now chief brain washer for all East Germany. When I slugged him, he was the "Comintern rep"—top political Moscow agent in the United States.

Victor Riesel

That was some time ago. Today he is assigned by his Soviet chiefs to a new supercharged anti-American campaign to be directed out of East Berlin.

"Little Baggy Pants" is bright. He dubbed Bob Kennedy a monster because of the attorney general's distaste for the leadership of the U.S. Teamsters. But there was another reason—as volatile as it is significant in today's not so cold war.

Eisler, one of the world's shrewdest propagandists, was disturbed by the respect West Berliners exhibited for the fast-moving symbol of America in the besieged city.

WHAT IRRITATED the Soviets was the positive evidence the American group brought—beyond just promises—that we will be in West Berlin for a long time.

During his short stay this side of "The Wall," for example, Bob Kennedy visited a firm called Auer Gesellschaft. This company turns out the most modern of mine safety devices. It is a wholly owned subsidiary of the Mine Safety Appliances Co., Pittsburgh, Pa.

The American firm bought the German unit in 1958. At that time business was almost as bad as Khrushchev's temper. It needed capital investment. The Pittsburgh people came in. They modernized a little. They made a few U.S. efficiency adjustments.

This took time. Chairman Khrushchev was putting the heat on the city. But today employment is up 36 per cent. Sales are up 50 per cent. Now 1,000 workers earn their daily bread there. They all downed tools and came to surround the American envoy.

They stood on tables and cheered the United States—especially the promise that the United States was there to stay and the obvious implication that American capital did not fear investing in Berlin, 100 miles behind the Iron border.

BOB KENNEDY'S visit also came at the moment the Soviets are pushing their new undercover drive to infiltrate West Germany's and West Berlin's unions. These have recently abandoned their traditionally Marxist collectivist policies.

So "Little Baggy Pants" did not exactly do handsprings when his agents told him that one evening at six o'clock Bob Kennedy and party had dropped informally into Hardtke's restaurant. They had come for beer and swapping of questions and answers with the West Berlin labor chiefs.

Nor did Comrade Eisler's headaches end with the departure of "The Little Monster." There is to be another public confrontation on the political battleground the Soviet's prefer the least. That's on the labor front.

I dined in New York the other night with a gentle voiced global fighter in this arena. He is Omer Becu, general secretary—which means leader—of a world organization little known outside the byways of labor people. This is the International Confederation of Free Trade Unions.

MR. BECU is an old transport worker himself. As we talked of Khrushchev's global apparatus, Mr. Becu told me his organization would begin meeting in West Berlin this coming July 2. On July 5, Becu and his colleagues will officially open the Seventh Congress of the International Confederation of Free Trade Unions, almost in the lurking shadows of "The Wall." Free men from free unions from every continent will make up the three to four hundred delegates.

President John Kennedy could do lots worse than spend July Fourth in Berlin so he can open the Seventh Congress there the next day. It speaks for 55 million people in some 75 lands. Nor are their leaders frightened of the Soviet Goliath. Becu said the other day:

"The free trade unions are again confronted by an enemy, perhaps even more dangerous than the Nazi-Fascist armies which sought to impose their dictatorship over the free world.

"I say that this is a more dangerous enemy because he knows how to smile while he subverts, how to look pleasant while he explodes nuclear bombs, how to promise peace while he threatens war and engages in undeclared wars and how to speak in the sweet accents of freedom while he blights that freedom wherever he is."

This theme, this paean of freedom, will be reechoed and rebroadcast from the congress hall in West Berlin. The United States has pledged that West Berlin will be free for such talk by free men for many, many Julys to come.

It sounds like a very hot summer for "Little Baggy Pants"—hotter than we made it for him in New York away back then.

Confusion Compounded

By David Lawrence

Kennedy Fails To Explain Nuclear Test Delay

After hearing President Kennedy's eloquent and forceful address the other night about resuming nuclear tests, it seems as if someone might readily write a play entitled, "How To Confuse the Public Without Really Trying."

David Lawrence

There is no issue emanating from government nowadays which is beset with so much confusion, contradiction and mystery as surrounds the argument over nuclear testing.

The New York Times said editorially this week that Mr. Kennedy's "stature as a forceful national leader will be determined less by the literary quality of his pronouncements than by his success in rallying the country behind his goals."

When the President finished his television address on nuclear testing, almost everyone agreed with the plausibility of the argument but there was so much left unsaid and unexplained that one wonders how long it will be before the public will demand a greater sense of responsibility to the nation than the administration has shown thus far on the issue of nuclear testing.

For one thing, the President didn't explain why, when the Soviets resumed testing on Sept. 1 last, he didn't immediately authorize resumption of tests by the United States — both in the atmosphere and underground — without waiting six months.

Is it conceivable that in a nuclear age the United States government wasn't prepared for a prompt resumption of tests when it found out that the Soviets were cheating?

How much confidence can there be that a similar delay in "studying" the issue may not eventuate if a nuclear attack actually occurs?

How can the American people accept Mr. Kennedy's proposals to trust the Soviets again if they sign an agreement on testing before April 1? This is the date the President held out as bait to obtain another moratorium on testing.

THE SEQUENCE of paragraphs is worth examining. First, the President openly accused the Soviets of violating their pledges when he said:

"On September 1st of last year, while the United States and the United Kingdom were negotiating in good faith at Geneva, the Soviet Union callously broke its moratorium with a two-month series of more than 40 nuclear tests. Preparations for these tests had been secretly underway for many months."

Then, in the latter part of the address, Mr. Kennedy nevertheless told the American people he was willing to take another chance on a written pledge by the Soviets, as he declared:

"If the Soviet Union should now be willing to accept such a treaty, sign it before the latter part of April, and apply it immediately—if all testing can thus be actually halted — then the nuclear arms race would be slowed down at last, the security of the United States and its ability to meet its commitments would be safeguarded, and there would be no need for our tests to begin."

Earlier in the same speech, Mr. Kennedy had stressed the importance of testing and of learning as much as, if not more than, the Soviets have learned by their recent tests.

He said frankly that a further Soviet series of tests in the absence of Western tests "could well provide the Soviet Union with a nuclear attack and defense capability so powerful as to encourage aggressive designs."

MR. KENNEDY then added:

"Were we to stand still while the Soviets surpassed us — or even appeared to surpass us — the free world's ability to deter, to survive and to respond to an all-out attack would be seriously weakened."

In spite of this, the President now wants to accept the written word of the Soviets and run the risk of further delays in America's testing.

Even more surprising perhaps was the President's carefully worded statement that "the exposure due to radioactivity from these (American) tests will be less than one-fiftieth of the difference which can be experienced, due to variations in natural radioactivity, simply by living in different locations in this country."

Yet millions of well-meaning, sincere and patriotic persons in this and other Western countries have been persuaded in the last five years by Soviet and pacifist propaganda and by misguided pronouncements of various scientists that atmospheric testing is a terrible danger to mankind.

Why hasn't our government — under this and the preceding administrations — debunked the idea before? Mr. Kennedy's address didn't clear up this phase of the confusion, either.

Letters To The Editor

I have lived in East Liverpool for more than 50 years and since 1929 most of that time has been spent as a truck driver. And reading about the city fining the truck driver who was struck by a train at the Walnut St. crossing sure wants to make a person laugh.

I should be able to speak with some authority on these crossings because my mother was killed at the Broadway crossing and my boy was later killed at the Jackson St. crossing.

If you will check up I will bet that East Liverpool has had more crossing accidents than any town or city in the U.S. After a fatality the city officials check the speed of the trains, which is sure a laugh. They notify the railroad they are going to do so, then even have a railroad official with them while checking.

A veteran railroad conductor told me, after an accident here, they have a slow signal up for as long as two weeks. You can see why this checking is a waste of time. There is only one way to make these crossings more safe and that is to tell the railroad to do something about it or you will put it in the hands of the ICC.

Now about the city income tax. The mayor was right about the reason it has always been voted down—because it was not handled right.

I live on a street just three blocks from the city business district which is not paved believe it or not. When the income tax first came out I thought it was a good thing because at least in the summer time we would be able to leave our doors and windows open without being choked to death from the dust. The oiling program was supposed to take care of this.

But what did the city do abut it? When they were oiling this area they spotted the bulk truck within 50 feet of my house and proceeded to oil the other streets in this area and left this street till last, which they oiled on a rainy day. They might just have saved their time because the rain took care of the oiling.

When the tax was on, the only thing you could read about in your paper was the deplorable condition of outer St. Clair Ave. But nobody seemed to notice the condition of a street much closer to the heart of town. At least the different councilmen for this area never cared to take the time. If they would take the time and come out to inspect this street, especially in the warm days when the wind is right and they can smell the odors from the septic tanks, they might want to put the money from the tax to a better use.

Go to Ravenna or any town which has the tax and you will not find the conditions we have here simply because the tax was used right.

They should start from the top and change distribution of the tax just like the mayor intimated in his speech to Council. His idea is a very sound proposal, especially about a citizens' committee to handle it.

It looks like it was used before just as a political plum. I mean in the jobs that were derived from it.

In the office that collected it, I think everyone employed there either had a husband working or was getting a retirement pension from another job, therefore keeping a job from someone who needed it. There was one girl working there who has a child and a husband in the service. Though she had the highest grade on the test, she was laid off first.

So you see this tax is a very good proposition if, like the mayor said, it will be handled properly. The people who have paid the tax know how much it cost them for one year. They should divide this by 52 and I think they will find it is darn cheap, that is if they receive any benefits from it, which I am sure every one will if, like the mayor suggested, it will be handled properly.

To the best knowledge of a board of questioners appointed to probe the incident that caused Francis Gary Powers and his U2 plane to fall into Russian hands in 1961, the aviator has nothing to be ashamed of officially.

There will be, of course, no end of questions in the minds of his critics, who will continue to be certain that he never should have let himself and his plane be captured.

These people are certain of many things about the U2 incident that shocked us all in 1960 — sure that the United States shouldn't have been spying on Russian territory from high-altitude planes, sure that the Powers mission shouldn't have been flown on the eve of an international conference, sure that the young aviator should have killed himself, sure that somebody must have done something wrong, sure that the United States never should have been embarrassed by the U2 incident.

Everything depends on how the incident is viewed.

Some of us were not embarrassed. We were glad to know U2 flights had been commonplace; that the Powers mishap was the first failure in a successful project of espionage that had been going on for years.

Some of us were not distraught because Powers had not destroyed himself. We doubted that critics who screamed he should have taken his own life would have taken theirs, and we felt we should be courteous enough to a fellow countryman to wait until his side of the story had been told back home.

He has been telling it for weeks to a board of health. Belatedly, some of his wilder critics now should cool down and do likewise. When Powers reads some of their slanders—if he ever gets around to them—he might want to punch some of them in the nose to see if their hearts are as big as their mouths.

A Neighbor's View

The following editorial, with the heading "Taxes Aid Progress", is reprinted from The Salem News:

Threatened again by serious financial difficulties, the City Council at East Liverpool has passed an emergency income tax of eight-tenths of one per cent.

It marks the fifth time that the Pottery City has enacted a wage tax in the face of stubborn opposition from a segment of the citizenry which doesn't seem to care whether their community keeps pace with advancements made by other Ohio cities.

Thank goodness that here in Salem we have the dedicated, optimistic, civic-minded brand of residents who want our city to progress and are glad to contribute to its maintenance and future planning through an income tax now in its second year of operation.

It is not our intention to project ourselves into the affairs of another city, but since East Liverpool, like Salem, is one of Columbiana County's major communities, we feel that all people of the county have a certain degree of responsibility to each other and that, collectively, we can work to attain new, important goals. We don't think that even the East Liverpool tax opponents would want to hamper their own city's progress, let alone the advancement of the district as a whole. After all, they, too, would benefit.

Reasonable taxes are as necessary today as they were in the days of Augustus Caesar.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Col. Glenn's recent visit to U.N. and plea for international orbits under U.N. control makes you wonder how anybody would get off ground under organization routines. It has trouble enough getting a resolution off the pad, let alone a man.

The moment a diplomat in U.N. rises to speak on any subject he faces harassing obstacles.

Penetrating the areas of abstentions, double talk and compromise is almost impossible. Colonel Glenn flew three times around the earth in less time than it takes United Nations to fly once around adoption of an agenda.

No reentry problems bother U.N. delegates as they penetrate regions of unlimited oratory. Were any astronaut to try global orbits under U.N. direction, important question of safety equipment might be blocked by an argument over procedural rules. Possible recording of words between U.N. and astronaut on such a flight:

Query: "Shall I continue?" Clearly heard, as was U.N. reply "Can't answer until all delegates have time to consult their governments."

"Astronaut: I am in a little trouble up here.

U.N.: If you think you are in trouble you should see what's going on down here.

LATER: Astronaut half-way around on second U.N. orbit reports indication his escape hatch may be out of order.

U.N. says, "Don't worry. Security Council will consider this in a few weeks."

As second trip near completion query is heard, "What about a third trip around?" Reply is "Just put this to vote. Abstentions prevented necessary two-thirds vote to proceed. Will take recount."

Astronaut (completing third orbit): Must know what to do now?

U.N.: Soviet delegate has just begun speech declaring you are in orbit in violation of CHARTER. You may have to stay up for week.

There are nearly 17 million people who have reached retirement age of 65, and C. S. Lavin, buyer of Casa Marina, says old hotels, closed or operated at loss, can be bought and enjoyed by retired folks on self-service plan. No bellhops, maids, porters, etc. Guests take care of own room or rooms. If they can help with maintenance of hotel and grounds they get a discount. Hotel was run for last decade by Max Marmonstein, a colorful operator, who died a year ago. It was bought by Mr. Lavin for $300,000.

Eisler Has Berlin Headache

By Victor Riesel

A fellow I once hit when he attempted—successfully—to keep me from covering a Communist parley in New York, has distinguished himself a second time. In Berlin the other day he thundered across "The Wall": "Go to Hell, Little Monster." The thunderer is Gerhard Eisler, "Little Baggy Pants," we called him—now chief brain washer for all East Germany. When I slugged him, he was the "Comintern rep"—top political Moscow agent in the United States.

Victor Riesel

That was some time ago. Today he is assigned by his Soviet chiefs to a new supercharged anti-American campaign to be directed out of East Berlin.

"Little Baggy Pants" is bright. He dubbed Bob Kennedy a monster because of the attorney general's distaste for the leadership of the U.S. Teamsters. But there was another reason—as volatile as it is significant in today's not so cold war.

Eisler, one of the world's shrewdest propagandists, was disturbed by the respect West Berliners exhibited for the fast-moving symbol of America in the besieged city.

WHAT IRRITATED the Soviets was the positive evidence the American group brought—beyond just promises—that we will be in West Berlin for a long time.

During his short stay this side of "The Wall," for example, Bob Kennedy visited a firm called Auer Gesellschaft. This company turns out the most modern of mine safety devices. It is a wholly owned subsidiary of the Mine Safety Appliances Co., Pittsburgh, Pa.

The American firm bought the German unit in 1958. At that time business was almost as bad as Khrushchev's temper. It needed capital investment. The Pittsburgh people came in. They modernized a little. They made a few U.S. efficiency adjustments.

This took time. Chairman Khrushchev was putting the heat on the city. But today employment is up 36 per cent. Sales are up 50 per cent. Now 1,000 workers earn their daily bread there. They all downed tools and came to surround the American envoy.

They stood on tables and cheered the United States—especially the promise that the United States was there to stay and the obvious implication that American capital did not fear investing in Berlin, 100 miles behind the Iron border.

BOB KENNEDY'S visit also came at the moment the Soviets are pushing their new undercover drive to infiltrate West Germany's and West Berlin's unions. These have recently abandoned their traditionally Marxist collectivist policies.

So "Little Baggy Pants" did not exactly do handsprings when his agents told him that one evening at six o'clock Bob Kennedy and party had dropped informally into Hardtke's restaurant. They had come for beer and swapping of questions and answers with the West Berlin labor chiefs.

Nor did Comrade Eisler's headaches end with the departure of "The Little Monster." There is to be another public confrontation on the political battleground the Soviet's prefer the least. That's on the labor front.

I dined in New York the other night with a gentle voiced global fighter in this arena. He is Omer Becu, general secretary—which means leader—of a world organization little known outside the byways of labor people. This is the International Confederation of Free Trade Unions.

MR. BECU is an old transport worker himself. As we talked of Khrushchev's global apparatus, Mr. Becu told me his organization would begin meeting in West Berlin this coming July 2. On July 5, Becu and his colleagues will officially open the Seventh Congress of the International Confederation of Free Trade Unions, almost in the lurking shadows of "The Wall." Free men from free unions from every continent will make up the three to four hundred delegates.

President John Kennedy could do lots worse than spend July Fourth in Berlin so he can open the Seventh Congress there the next day. It speaks for 55 million people in some 75 lands. Nor are their leaders frightened of the Soviet Goliath. Becu said the other day:

"The free trade unions are again confronted by an enemy, perhaps even more dangerous than the Nazi-Fascist armies which sought to impose their dictatorship over the free world.

"I say that this is a more dangerous enemy because he knows how to smile while he subverts, how to look pleasant while he explodes nuclear bombs, how to promise peace while he threatens war and engages in undeclared wars and how to speak in the sweet accents of freedom while he blights that freedom wherever he is."

This theme, this paean of freedom, will be reechoed and rebroadcast from the congress hall in West Berlin. The United States has pledged that West Berlin will be free for such talk by free men for many, many Julys to come.

It sounds like a very hot summer for "Little Baggy Pants"—hotter than we made it for him in New York away back then.

Down Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO — The lowest temperatures of the winter were registered throughout Ohio — with East Liverpool showing a zero reading.

Ray T. Adam of East Liverpool, deputy county auditor, discussed the new Ohio tax law at a meeting of the Wellsville Rotary Club.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — Mrs. H. W. Osborne and children of Glenmoor left to make their home in Akron.

Mrs. W. J. Wolfe of LaCroft was received as a new member of the Marcotti Club, which met at the home of Mrs. Charles Tompkins of 7th St. and Broadway.

TEN YEARS AGO — Mrs. Patricia Heath of Fairview Rd., Chester, left to join her husband, Pfc. Richard Heath, with the Air Force at Sheppard Field, Wichita Falls, Tex.

Miss Mildred McGregor, principal of 6th St. School, was named president of the East Liverpool Teachers Association.

Odd Facts

There's been a steady improvement in reading habits among children since 1921, according to one survey. After five years in elementary school today, children reach a level of reading that's at least a half-year ahead of kids of equal intelligence and age 20 years ago.

Confusion Compounded

By David Lawrence

Kennedy Fails To Explain Nuclear Test Delay

After hearing President Kennedy's eloquent and forceful address the other night about resuming nuclear tests, it seems as if someone might readily write a play entitled, "How To Confuse the Public Without Really Trying."

David Lawrence

There is no issue emanating from government nowadays which is beset with so much confusion, contradiction and mystery as surrounds the argument over nuclear testing.

The New York Times said editorially this week that Mr. Kennedy's "stature as a forceful national leader will be determined less by the literary quality of his pronouncements than by his success in rallying the country behind his goals."

When the President finished his television address on nuclear testing, almost everyone agreed with the plausibility of the argument but there was so much left unsaid and unexplained that one wonders how long it will be before the public will demand a greater sense of responsibility to the nation than the administration has shown thus far on the issue of nuclear testing.

For one thing, the President didn't explain why, when the Soviets resumed testing on Sept. 1 last, he didn't immediately authorize resumption of tests by the United States — both in the atmosphere and underground — without waiting six months.

Is it conceivable that in a nuclear age the United States government wasn't prepared for a prompt resumption of tests when it found out that the Soviets were cheating?

How much confidence can there be that a similar delay in "studying" the issue may not eventuate if a nuclear attack actually occurs?

How can the American people accept Mr. Kennedy's proposals to trust the Soviets again if they sign an agreement on testing before April 1? This is the date the President held out as bait to obtain another moratorium on testing.

THE SEQUENCE of paragraphs is worth examining. First, the President openly accused the Soviets of violating their pledges when he said:

"On September 1st of last year, while the United States and the United Kingdom were negotiating in good faith at Geneva, the Soviet Union callously broke its moratorium with a two-month series of more than 40 nuclear tests. Preparations for these tests had been secretly underway for many months."

Then, in the latter part of the address, Mr. Kennedy nevertheless told the American people he was willing to take another chance on a written pledge by the Soviets, as he declared:

"If the Soviet Union should now be willing to accept such a treaty, sign it before the latter part of April, and apply it immediately—if all testing can thus be actually halted — then the nuclear arms race would be slowed down at last, the security of the United States and its ability to meet its commitments would be safeguarded, and there would be no need for our tests to begin."

Earlier in the same speech, Mr. Kennedy had stressed the importance of testing and of learning as much as, if not more than, the Soviets have learned by their recent tests.

He said frankly that a further Soviet series of tests in the absence of Western tests "could well provide the Soviet Union with a nuclear attack and defense capability so powerful as to encourage aggressive designs."

MR. KENNEDY then added:

"Were we to stand still while the Soviets surpassed us — or even appeared to surpass us — the free world's ability to deter, to survive and to respond to an all-out attack would be seriously weakened."

In spite of this, the President now wants to accept the written word of the Soviets and run the risk of further delays in America's testing.

Even more surprising perhaps was the President's carefully worded statement that "the exposure due to radioactivity from these (American) tests will be less than one-fiftieth of the difference which can be experienced, due to variations in natural radioactivity, simply by living in different locations in this country."

Yet millions of well-meaning, sincere and patriotic persons in this and other Western countries have been persuaded in the last five years by Soviet and pacifist propaganda and by misguided pronouncements of various scientists that atmospheric testing is a terrible danger to mankind.

Why hasn't our government — under this and the preceding administrations — debunked the idea before? Mr. Kennedy's address didn't clear up this phase of the confusion, either.

Letters To The Editor

I have lived in East Liverpool for more than 50 years and since 1929 most of that time has been spent as a truck driver. And reading about the city fining the truck driver who was struck by a train at the Walnut St. crossing sure wants to make a person laugh.

I should be able to speak with some authority on these crossings because my mother was killed at the Broadway crossing and my boy was later killed at the Jackson St. crossing.

If you will check up I will bet that East Liverpool has had more crossing accidents than any town or city in the U.S. After a fatality the city officials check the speed of the trains, which is sure a laugh. They notify the railroad they are going to do so, then even have a railroad official with them while checking.

A veteran railroad conductor told me, after an accident here, they have a slow signal up for as long as two weeks. You can see why this checking is a waste of time. There is only one way to make these crossings more safe and that is to tell the railroad to do something about it or you will put it in the hands of the ICC.

Now about the city income tax. The mayor was right about the reason it has always been voted down—because it was not handled right.

I live on a street just three blocks from the city business district which is not paved believe it or not. When the income tax first came out I thought it was a good thing because at least in the summer time we would be able to leave our doors and windows open without being choked to death from the dust. The oiling program was supposed to take care of this.

But what did the city do abut it? When they were oiling this area they spotted the bulk truck within 50 feet of my house and proceeded to oil the other streets in this area and left this street till last, which they oiled on a rainy day. They might just have saved their time because the rain took care of the oiling.

When the tax was on, the only thing you could read about in your paper was the deplorable condition of outer St. Clair Ave. But nobody seemed to notice the condition of a street much closer to the heart of town. At least the different councilmen for this area never cared to take the time. If they would take the time and come out to inspect this street, especially in the warm days when the wind is right and they can smell the odors from the septic tanks, they might want to put the money from the tax to a better use.

Go to Ravenna or any town which has the tax and you will not find the conditions we have here simply because the tax was used right.

They should start from the top and change distribution of the tax just like the mayor intimated in his speech to Council. His idea is a very sound proposal, especially about a citizens' committee to handle it.

It looks like it was used before just as a political plum. I mean in the jobs that were derived from it.

In the office that collected it, I think everyone employed there either had a husband working or was getting a retirement pension from another job, therefore keeping a job from someone who needed it. There was one girl working there who has a child and a husband in the service. Though she had the highest grade on the test, she was laid off first.

So you see this tax is a very good proposition if, like the mayor said, it will be handled properly. The people who have paid the tax know how much it cost them for one year. They should divide this by 52 and I think they will find it is darn cheap, that is if they receive any benefits from it, which I am sure every one will if, like the mayor suggested, it will be handled properly.

Appeal

case of McAllister Dairy Farms, Inc., of Warren against the City of East Liverpool—an action in which the dairy firm seeks to force the city Health Department to issue it a permit to sell milk in East Liverpool.

The case was passed to allow further work on transcripts. It will be heard later when the court sits in Youngstown.

The court took under advisement the case of the State Highway Department against the Stover-Leslie Flying Service, Inc., an appeal from a $32,700 award given the flying service for property in the lower California Hollow section of East Liverpool which was used in construction of the new city freeway. The state's appeal claims the award was excessive.

The appeals court will visit Lisbon next on Sept. 12 at 10 a.m.

West Point Firemen Quell 2 Auto Fires

WEST POINT — Volunteer firemen extinguished two automobile fires, with an estimated damage of $775, Tuesday noon and early this morning, according to Ed Bergman, fireman.

The car of T. Henry Williams of Akron caught fire on Route 45 about half a mile south of West Point at 12:10 p.m. The 1958 Chrysler received approximately $700 damage.

The car of Mrs. Phillip Springer of Lisbon R. D. 1 received $75 damage to the seat and upholstering when it caught fire about 2:30 a. m. today on Route 164 just south of Gavers. The car is a 1958 Ford.

Twelve men with a truck quelled Tuesday's fire and six men were on the call this morning.

Board To Give School Plans To State Units

Final plans and specifications for one of 10 classrooms and other additions at South Side High School near Hookstown are expected to be completed by Friday to be presented to the State Public School Building Authority and the Department of Public Instruction for approval.

The project is estimated to cost $586,720. Following a meeting of the Southern Beaver County Board of Education Monday evening, Victor Thomas, supervising principal, said B. J. McCandless, Ellwood City architect, expects to have the plans completed this week. After their approval by the state, bids will be advertised.

Thomas reported that the district has received approval of its tuition rates for next year by the Department of Public Instruction. They will be $29.95 a month for elementary and $35.39 for high school students. The rates are slightly higher. The present rates are $28.39 elementary and $34.42 high school.

The board approved the school calendar for the next term. A teachers' institute and orientation day will be Sept. 4 and the first day of school for students will be Sept. 5. Last day for teachers will be June 7 and for students, June 6, in 1963.

City Removes Snow From Main Streets

some motorists left their cars on the streets scheduled for clearing. Some of the autos were towed away when their owners could not be located. In other instances, the motorists were routed out of bed to move their cars.

The incinerator department is working today on the downtown "restaurant route" — the big stores and other business places daily.

The director asked the public to "be patient" about the suspension of household trash and garbage collection and not to telephone officials needlessly. He said collections will be back to normal as soon as street conditions permit.

Incinerator Supt. James A. McKinnon suggested that housewives use temporary containers such as cardboard boxes if their garbage cans are full.

The city's crews worked throughout Monday night and Tuesday on the snow - removal job. The street department grader was used yesterday to scrape St. Clair Ave. and Lisbon St. One of the first jobs yesterday morning was removal of snow from crosswalks in the business area.

Mayor Bert H. Goodballet pointed out yesterday morning that lack of equipment hampered the job in its early phases.

"The street department advised me that there was not enough shovels to go around," he said.

The mayor was out of bed at 5 yesterday morning and in his office at 7 to join the director in arranging the snow-removal work. Early yesterday morning, one street department crew was assigned to City Hospital to help keep the approaches clear for emergency ambulance runs.

Broken-down equipment hampered the snow-removal job at its outset. Two of the incinerator department trucks were out of service with tire and battery trouble. In addition to the snow-removal work last night, the street department sent out some of its trucks to spread ashes and salt on slippery pavement.

East Liverpool public schools and St. Aloysius Parochial schools and those in Stanton Local resumed today after suspending Tuesday, but other Columbiana County schools remained closed, expecting to re-open Thursday. East Palestine and Midland schools did not close.

Supt. Ralph Betts' office said attendance this morning was about normal in city schools.

The county schools remained closed because of the condition of the secondary roads, over which many of their buses operate.

The State Highway Department clears the state routes and the County Highway Department works mainly on the secondary roads. The county garage at Lisbon said all its roads were open today but icy and crews continued cindering.

Schools expecting to resume tomorrow are Wellsville, Lisbon, Southern Local, Beaver Local, United Local and Fairfield-Waterford in Columbiana County, and Hancock County schools.

Wellsville public schools remained closed because several of the secondary roads remained clogged in the rural sections and authorities feared the buses might not get through.

Schools in Hancock remained closed due to snow-choked rural roads, which prevented school buses from making their usual rounds.

The Pughtown Garage of the West Virginia State Road Commission has concentrated its efforts since the storm in removing snow from the main traffic arteries, including Routes 30 and 22.

But weary crews began scraping and ashing rural roads this morning and classes will likely resume tomorrow morning at Chester, Newell, Pughtown, New Cumberland and Weirton.

All schools in the Stanton Local district were open today, and chain-equipped buses arrived mostly on time or within a few minutes of their regular schedules. Schools in Stanton Local district are in Irondale, Hammondsville and Empire.

Gaylord Zellers, county supervisor for the State Highway Department, said the crews of the Leetonia garage expected to complete the snow removal this afternoon, with sunny skies aiding the task.

He said all 17 crews worked almost continuously after the accumulation started Monday afternoon. Four or five trucks were out all Tuesday night cindering stretches and some plowing was required on Route 172 because of heavy drifting.

A thin glaze of ice covered the California Hollow section of Routes 7 and 30 this morning, the result of the light snow that fell last night.

The slippery pavement tied up 17 big tractor-trailer rigs virtually bumper-to-bumper in the outbound lane of the highway on the grade approaching the intersection with State Route 170. State Highway Department cindering crews already in the vicinity were notified.

Inbound traffic continued despite the tie-up. Outbound traffic moved sporadically — lighter vehicles pulling into the center lane of the three-lane stretch to pass the tractor-trailers. Most of the stalled rigs were steel-laden. A few were big tankers.

The roads were very icy early today, after a freezing night and the additional snow, but Zellers said they were in "pretty good" condition.

Columbiana County apparently had the heaviest fall in the state, with over 10 inches on the eastern side and up to 12 inches in the western section.

The Weather Bureau reported 9 inches on the ground early this morning at Youngstown and 8 inches in the Akron-Canton area.

Marietta reported 6 inches of snow since Tuesday morning.

Central Ohio was hit by heavy snow Monday and by Tuesday most of the state was snow covered.

Today's high will range between 33 and 38. Thursday will be sunny with little temperature change.

Driver Fined After Mishap

Bruce Blankenship, 26, of 105 Harrison St., Newell, was fined $25 and costs today in Municipal Court when he pleaded guilty to a reckless driving charge as an aftermath of a collision between his car and a truck at 7:24 this morning at E. 3rd and Walnut Sts.

Police said Blankenship's 1957 sedan was involved in a collision with a 1956 model truck driven by John Lorene, 46, of Canton, and owned by Don Bertlyn of Corapolis.

The trucker told police he was driving east on E. 3rd when Blankenship pulled around a westbound truck and attempted to make a left turn in front of him. The crash damaged both sides of the Newell man's auto and the right fender and bumper of the truck, police said.

Meeting To Mark Anniversary Of City Moose Lodge

Moose Lodge 122, observing its golden anniversary this week, will hold its regular meeting Thursday night at 8 with Eugene Springer, governor, in charge.

Because of the snow, an "Old-Timers' Night" Monday was postponed. Only a few of some 21 who have been members for more than 20 years were able to attend.

Heading the old-timers' list is John Lutton of W. 9th St. a member for 48 years. Harry Haustman, a patient in City Hospital, has been a member 44 years and James C. Rigby 42 years.

The lodge received its charter in 1912 and has been located on E. 3rd St. for four years. Its former home on E. 4th St. was razed.

RUSTPROOFING?

Rambler spills more than others use

Rust normally starts inside automobile body panels and girders.

To stop that, Rambler goes to extra lengths no other car does.

Every Rambler body is Deep-Dipped—right up to the roof—in a tank of rustproofing primer paint. Hundreds of gallons surge inside girders and pillars.

Far more rustproofing

When the body comes out, dripping excess solution, over 15 pounds of rustproofing chemicals coat the steel—more rustproofing than any other American car gets, and more spilled, literally, than others use.

But Deep-Dip is just one of 14 steps in Rambler's all-out rust fight—9 steps in the body alone.

9-step body protection

1. Lower body panels are zinc-clad . . .
2. Zinc-rich primer is used on critical metal surfaces before welding . . .
3. Body is spray rustproofed with phosphate paint bond . . .
4. Entire body is Deep-Dipped . . .
5. Primer-surfacer is sprayed, then is baked on . . .
6. Rust-fighting wax compound is sprayed inside girders, rocker panels, fenders . . .
7. Two coats of chip- and salt-resistant super enamel are baked on . . .
8. Sound-deadening rustproofing material is sprayed on vital areas . . .
9. Abrasion-resistant sealer is sprayed on critical underbody areas to protect against stones.

Is it any wonder that Rambler is the world's most rustproofed car?

East Liverpool public schools and St. Aloysius Parochial schools and those in Stanton Local resumed today after suspending Tuesday, but other Columbiana County schools remained closed, expecting to re-open Thursday. East Palestine and Midland schools did not close.

Supt. Ralph Betts' office said attendance this morning was about normal in city schools.

The county schools remained closed because of the condition of the secondary roads, over which many of their buses operate.

The State Highway Department clears the state routes and the County Highway Department works mainly on the secondary roads. The county garage at Lisbon said all its roads were open today but icy and crews continued cindering.

Schools expecting to resume tomorrow are Wellsville, Lisbon, Southern Local, Beaver Local, United Local and Fairfield-Waterford in Columbiana County, and Hancock County schools.

Wellsville public schools remained closed because several of the secondary roads remained clogged in the rural sections and authorities feared the buses might not get through.

Schools in Hancock remained closed due to snow-choked rural roads, which prevented school buses from making their usual rounds.

The Pughtown Garage of the West Virginia State Road Commission has concentrated its efforts since the storm in removing snow from the main traffic arteries, including Routes 30 and 22.

But weary crews began scraping and ashing rural roads this morning and classes will likely resume tomorrow morning at Chester, Newell, Pughtown, New Cumberland and Weirton.

All schools in the Stanton Local district were open today, and chain-equipped buses arrived mostly on time or within a few minutes of their regular schedules. Schools in Stanton Local district are in Irondale, Hammondsville and Empire.

Gaylord Zellers, county supervisor for the State Highway Department, said the crews of the Leetonia garage expected to complete the snow removal this afternoon, with sunny skies aiding the task.

He said all 17 crews worked almost continuously after the accumulation started Monday afternoon. Four or five trucks were out all Tuesday night cindering stretches and some plowing was required on Route 172 because of heavy drifting.

A thin glaze of ice covered the California Hollow section of Routes 7 and 30 this morning, the result of the light snow that fell last night.

The slippery pavement tied up 17 big tractor-trailer rigs virtually bumper-to-bumper in the outbound lane of the highway on the grade approaching the intersection with State Route 170. State Highway Department cindering crews already in the vicinity were notified.

Inbound traffic continued despite the tie-up. Outbound traffic moved sporadically — lighter vehicles pulling into the center lane of the three-lane stretch to pass the tractor-trailers. Most of the stalled rigs were steel-laden. A few were big tankers.

The roads were very icy early today, after a freezing night and the additional snow, but Zellers said they were in "pretty good" condition.

Columbiana County apparently had the heaviest fall in the state, with over 10 inches on the eastern side and up to 12 inches in the western section.

The Weather Bureau reported 9 inches on the ground early this morning at Youngstown and 8 inches in the Akron-Canton area.

Marietta reported 6 inches of snow since Tuesday morning.

Central Ohio was hit by heavy snow Monday and by Tuesday most of the state was snow covered.

Today's high will range between 33 and 38. Thursday will be sunny with little temperature change.

Driver Fined After Mishap

Bruce Blankenship, 26, of 105 Harrison St., Newell, was fined $25 and costs today in Municipal Court when he pleaded guilty to a reckless driving charge as an aftermath of a collision between his car and a truck at 7:24 this morning at E. 3rd and Walnut Sts.

Police said Blankenship's 1957 sedan was involved in a collision with a 1956 model truck driven by John Lorene, 46, of Canton, and owned by Don Bertlyn of Corapolis.

The trucker told police he was driving east on E. 3rd when Blankenship pulled around a westbound truck and attempted to make a left turn in front of him. The crash damaged both sides of the Newell man's auto and the right fender and bumper of the truck, police said.

The unidentified vehicle apparently backed into the fence, damaging a post and an iron railing, officers said.

RUSTPROOFING?

Rambler spills more than others use

Rust normally starts inside automobile body panels and girders.

To stop that, Rambler goes to extra lengths no other car does.

Every Rambler body is Deep-Dipped—right up to the roof—in a tank of rustproofing primer paint. Hundreds of gallons surge inside girders and pillars.

Far more rustproofing

When the body comes out, dripping excess solution, over 15 pounds of rustproofing chemicals coat the steel—more rustproofing than any other American car gets, and more spilled, literally, than others use.

But Deep-Dip is just one of 14 steps in Rambler's all-out rust fight—9 steps in the body alone.

9-step body protection

1. Lower body panels are zinc-clad . . .
2. Zinc-rich primer is used on critical metal surfaces before welding . . .
3. Body is spray rustproofed with phosphate paint bond . . .
4. Entire body is Deep-Dipped . . .
5. Primer-surfacer is sprayed, then is baked on . . .
6. Rust-fighting wax compound is sprayed inside girders, rocker panels, fenders . . .
7. Two coats of chip- and salt-resistant super enamel are baked on . . .
8. Sound-deadening rustproofing material is sprayed on vital areas . . .
9. Abrasion-resistant sealer is sprayed on critical underbody areas to protect against stones.

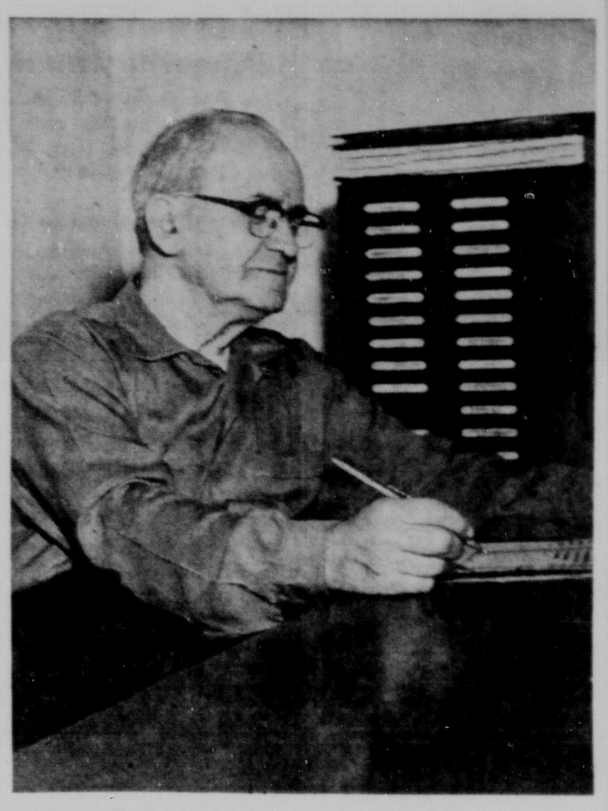
Power Worker Retires



Omer V. Ryan, 937 Huston Ave., who has retired after slightly over 40 years service with the Ohio Power Co., plans to "hit the road," visiting various sections of the country.

Ryan, shown here at his final day on the job, has served his entire time in East Liverpool district storerooms. He was born Feb. 25, 1897, in New Brighton.

His father died when he was 4 and he spent the next nine years at the Saint Louis orphanage at Louisville, Ohio. He attended local schools while residing with an aunt and uncle and was graduated from East Liverpool High in 1916.

He then worked at the Crucible Steel Co. in Midland, later moving to Youngstown and then serving in the Navy.

After his discharge, he returned to work at the Crucible for about six months before leaving again to enter the Merchant Marine. He went on voyges to Central America, Puerto Rico, Holland and several other areas.

He made his home in New Orleans for a short time and says he would like to return there on one of his many planned auto trips.

Married while in the Navy, his wife is Mrs. Norma Ryan.

Ryan started with Ohio Power as a storekeeper Sept. 1, 1921. The storeroom then was located in an old livery stable at the site of the company's present 2nd St. Substation. The stores operation was moved to the present building in 1932, Since, Ryan has held several titles, all in the same department. He was classified as a storekeeper-district storeroom when he retired last week.

Ryan said he plans to visit his daughter, Mrs. Norma Pittman, and her family at Tacoma, Wash., and then visit the World's Fair at Seattle. He also plans to drive to Los Angeles to visit a brother and sister. Another daughter, Mrs. Margaret Hunter, lives in East Liverpool.

Mr. and Mrs. Ryan made a trip to Ft. Lewis, Wash., in 1957. They also have driven to Florida and plan to visit New York and Philadelphia.

His hobbies are gardening and raising flowers. He also is active in VFW and American Legion work. He operates his own part-time income tax service.

Snow Weight Breaks Chester Power Line

Weight of heavy snow Tuesday broke a 2,300-volt line of the Monongahela Power Co., causing a power failure for a number of homes along Fairview Rd. between Locust Hill Cemetery and Route 2 in the Chester area.

Walter Jordan, Chester manager of the utility, said the line which broke served only one customer, but tripped another line serving the Fairview Rd. area over three miles away.

Crews had difficulty locating the original break because of the condition, but had power restored late yesterday afternoon, he said.

Polio Vaccine Hits 3 Types

that the Sabin vaccine will be more effective than any present immunization by breaking the chain of transmission—eliminating the vaccinated person as a carrier of the disease—which the killed virus vaccine does do.

The vaccine can be given to persons of all ages — either mixed with distilled water in a cup for adults or spoonfed to infants.

It is safe for newborn babies, but it may be necessary to give a booster dose later at one year of age.

There are no side reactions to the vaccine, doctors say.

However, it should not be given to acutely ill persons with temperatures of 102 degrees or above. Nor is it recommended for anyone who has had adenoids or tonsils removed prior to the clinics or who plan to have such operations two weeks or less afterward.

It can be given safely to those allergic to penicillin or eggs or to expectant mothers.

The oral clinic program was adopted because of the low incidence of Salk immunization among adults in the county and the need to eliminate polio carriers along with the need to boost the protection percentage for children and adults.

The dose for the Type I vaccine at clinics this month will cost 50 cents each, or will be made available without cost for the needy.

Volunteer workers are now being recruited to staff the clinics to be held throughout the county, including Westgate School, East Junior High School, Calcutta School, Wellsville High School, Lisbon's Lincoln School, Salineville High School and elsewhere.

The medical society leaders urge all residents of the county to take advantage of this inexpensive and easy method of obtaining protection against the crippling disease.

Dr. Leonard Pritchard of Columbiana, chairman of the clinic program, pointed out that polio is not licked, that it can always break out in areas where the population is without broad immunization.

The medical society hopes to make sure Columbiana County will not be such an epidemic center in the near future, sponsors said.

Bill Yoakum and Jerry Smith, Key Club members, were guests. About 28 attended. Paul Finley, president, was in charge.

Elementary School at the head of his class and entered Sparta High School in a class of 180. A new $1.5 million high school, just completed, will be named for him if, the board said last week, he approves the move.

In high school, he played trombone for four years with the band, and there is a picture of him in the band uniform, looking proud, and a little shy. He was out for the track team all four years, and played on the school's Future Farmers of America basketball team for three years.

Don, his brother Howard, his sisters Beverly and Verna, and Russ and Lloyd Harris made the five-mile trip to school daily in a Model T Ford the Harris boys bought for $26.

During track season, Don sometimes ran the five miles to improve his wind and legs.

It was with the Future Farmers that he raised the prize Oxford sheep, and after winning classes at the Monroe County Fair in Tomah went on to the state fair.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration biography of his Air Force career takes up most of a page: 56 combat missions over Germany, seven over Japan, time out to win an aeronautical engineering degree at the University of Minnesota, a brief tour as a civilian engineer.

"He quit a good paying job at Boeing," his mother says, "because he was grounded."

He went back into service with the Minnesota Air National Guard and then to a berth as an experimental jet test pilot at Edwards Air Force Base.

While in Germany, Slayton married a civilian secretary, Marjorie Lunney, whose home is in California. They have a 4-year-old son, Kent. In a brief visit home after Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr. made the first orbital flight, the Slaytons were busy with plans for building a home near NASA's new headquarters at Houston, Tex.

At home, his parents—now 74 and 67 years old—hear little of the Mercury project. Charles Slayton is town treasurer of Leon.

"We share Don's confidence in this program," his mother says. "We know that God willing, Don's flight will be as successful as Glenn's.

"No parents have a right to interfere with their children's futures. If Don is happy in what he is doing, we are happy.

6 Take Applications For New York Police

Approximately half a dozen application blanks for jobs on the New York City police department have been issued by the Ohio State Employment Service office here, Harry L. Dinsmore, manager, said today.

Dinsmore said, however, that no completed applications have been returned as yet. The deadline is April 6 in the campaign in which the OSES is co-operating with the New York Civil Service Commission to secure recruits.

Applicants must be high school graduates, between 20 and 28, be at least 5-foot-8 and have 20-30 vision without glasses. Those who meet the requirements will be eligible to take the next police examination, which will be held April 14 in Pittsburgh.

Hammondsville Airman Assigned

Rct. Calvin Householder of Pine Grove, Hammondsville, has been assigned to an air base in Texas after enlisting in the Air Force recently. A son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Householder, he was graduated from Stanton Local High School.

Mr. and Mrs. John Myers and Bonny Lawrence visited Mr. and Mrs. John H. Leiby and family of Parma Saturday.

Pfc. Fred Huyghe of Fort Campbell, Ky., is visiting his wife, Sandra, and son at Chestnut Grove, and his mother, Mrs. Eugene Huyghe, and grandfather, Albert Huyghe, both of Huyghesville, patients in City Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Lawrence and Mrs. Larry Lawrence and son, Roger, motored to New Concord Saturday for the welcome celebration for Col. John H. Glenn.

Mrs. Steve Chetock spent the weekend with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Julius Chetock, of Norwood. He is a student at the University of Cincinnati.

Lisbon Board Hikes Salary Of Principals

LISBON — The Lisbon Board of Education Tuesday night approved salary increases for the principals — $280 for the McKinley School official and $300 more for those at Lincoln School and the high school.

Salaries of bus drivers and custodians were discussed but no action was taken after figures showed their pay is comparable with other schools in the area for their work.

Purchase of five cafeteria tables for McKinley School at a cost of $2,015, was authorized. Delivery date was set at five months.

The board also discussed purchase of classroom furniture, 120 desks, library shelving, four teacher desks, an office desk and several filing cabinets for the new McKinley addition, which is hoped to be completed by the beginning of the September term.

No official action was taken, however, as the delivery time is less than for the cafeteria tables.

Supt. Russell Armitage discussed proposed improvements for Lincoln School next summer, including renovation of the shower room at Lincoln, installation of a service window in the cafeteria, gas service to two classrooms for science lab equipment and playground improvements.

The board requested bids and is expected to discuss them further at a later meeting.

The school policy book is being brought up to date by Supt. Armitage, since several changes had to be made due to state rulings, he said.

Appraisal made by Woodward & Co. of Columbiana for land needed for a playground at McKinley School, when the new addition of 14 rooms is completed, was discussed.

Several teacher contracts were discussed but no official action will be taken before April 1, Supt. Armitage said.

Board members were invited to the co-op office education banquet April 14. Due to the possibility of accidents if personal cars are used for the history class trip to Gettysburg, the board agreed to help finance chartering of two buses, providing arrangements can be made. The board will pay approximately $275 for the trip for the 62 students.

Edwin L. Kauffman, vice president, presided in the absence of Dr. Wade Bacon, president. Bills of $58,737.81 were ordered paid. Next meeting April 10 at 7:30 p. m.

College Students Tests Slated For Draft Deferment

Applications for the Selective Service college qualification Test April 17 are available for area college students at Draft Board 16 at Lisbon and Selective Service boards throughout Ohio, officials announced.

Col. Raymond Clouse, Ohio director of Selective Service, said the test will be given at more than 500 colleges in all 50 states.

Among the Ohio colleges are Ohio University, Bowling Green University, Youngstown University, Ohio State University, Muskingum College and many others.

Scores on the test will provide boards with evidence of aptitude for continued undergraduate and graduate study. The scores will not in themselves determine eligibility for deferment from service, but are considered with other evidence on whether to defer registrants for further study.

Applications must be postmarked not later than midnight March 27. Further information may be obtained from the local boards.

The test has been used since 1951 to aid local boards in determining questions of student deferment.

To be eligible, an applicant must be satisfactorily pursuing a full-time college course — undergraduate or graduate — leading to a degree. He need not be a student of a four-year college, but his entire course of study must be satisfactory for transfer of credits to a degree-granting institution.

They Walked With Christ

THE FIRST WISE MAN

"... behold, there came wise men from the east to Jerusalem."

—Matthew II: 1

There are many today who regard the story of the Wise Men, or Magi, as a charming Yuletide fiction. The Evangelist's narrative is true to the Christmas spirit, they say, but we should not take it literally.

For Christians who believe that the Gospel account is the inspired word of God, however, the story of the Star and of the sages who followed it to Jesus, is factually true.

Only Matthew among the four Gospel writers mentions the Magi and their journey to Bethlehem. And he does not tell us how many there were, what they were called, or exactly which countries they were from.

In the West, tradition has always indicated that there were three such Wise Men. This number is probably based upon the fact that Matthew mentions three gifts, which they brought to the Child Jesus.

In the East, on the other hand, legends say there were twelve, rather and three, Magi.

The legends of different countries have given the Wise Men various names. But the three most familiar to the West, from the seventh century onward, are Melchior, Gaspar, and Balthasar.

An early writer even ventures a description of the three. He says that Melchior, the First Wise Man, was "an old man, grey-haired, with a long full beard. He came bearing a gift of gold to the princely Infant."

But exactly who was this hoary man of learning, and what was the nature of his knowledge that even in a distant country he could discern what apparently remained hidden from all save the shepherds among the people in the immediate vicinity of the event in the Bethlehem stable?

Non-Biblical sources tell us that originally the Magi were a sect of Medes which worshipped God in the emblem of fire. Later, however, the name was applied to followers of the Persian reformer, Zoroaster, who restored the Magian system and introduced into it the principle of one supreme God.

The sect, members of which collected together in colleges, or centers of learning, were profound students of astrology, and were skilled in the interpretation of dreams.

As stargazers who constantly studied the heavens, and as men versed in the arts of divination, it is not surprising that they noted "his star in the east" and set out to find Him.

Sailor Takes Big Step When He Re-Enlists

EL CENTRO, Calif. (AP)—Sailor Frank Moncreif took a big step when he re-enlisted — about 6,000 feet.

He stepped out of a plane flying at that altitude Tuesday. So did Chief Warrant Officer Lewis T. Vinson. As they fell, Moncreif handed Vinson a baton. In it were his re-enlistment papers.

At 2,500 feet the men opened their parachutes and descended to a marker on the desert. There an enlistment officer signed Moncreif on for six more years.

Moncreif, 30, has been in the Navy seven years, most of it as an underwater demolition team member. He is now assigned to a Navy parachute exhibition team at el Centro Naval Air Facility. Vinson is the group's jumpmaster.

New Jobless Claims Reported Up In Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — New claims for unemployment compensation increased in the week ended March 3 after showing declines for a number of weeks. But the figure is still under that of the same period last year.

The new claims increased from 12,938 in the week ended Feb. 24 to 15,121. The average number of new claims filed weekly in March last year was 27,175.

Continuing claims of those unemployed one week or more also showed a small increase, up from 127,714 to 128,030 for the week ended March 3.

Students Due TB X-Rays

Thirteen positive reactors found in the 1,746 tuberculin patch tests given Midland public school students will receive chest X-ray examinations when the Pennsylvania Health Department's mobile unit visits Midland Tuesday. The patch test was given last week and read Friday.

Mrs. Margaret Glumac, school nurse, said there were five reactors among the high school students and eight among the elementary pupils.

Free chest X-rays for adults and the reactors will be given Tuesday by the unit, which is also sponsored by the Beaver County Tuberculosis Association. It will be located in front of Green's Television Electric Shop, 801 Midland Ave. Hours will be 1 to 5 and 6 to 9 p. m.

Only the reactor students will take the X-rays. Previously, seniors did not take the patch tests, only the X-rays. But this year they took the patch tests since the county association has discontinued its X-ray clinics at schools. School personnel must take the chest X-rays each year.

The county TB office said the state mobile unit will be in the county all next week. Any adult may obtain X-rays at the unit's various locations. The nearest clinic for South Side residents will be Monday when the unit will be located at the C. & L. Market at Brodhead Rd. and Main St., Aliquippa.

The county office said the Steelworkers Union at Midland and the Exchange Club at Aliquippa assisted with plans for the mobile unit visit to the two towns.

Bill Rayburn, committee chairman, presided. He reported on the forthcoming trip to the Philmont Scout Ranch in New Mexico. Nine local boys have signed and 20 are expected. Rayburn will be the leader.

Ohio's realized net income was slightly lower than the national average, which was $3,323 in 1961, compared to $2,963 in 1960. The state with the greatest average was Arizona with $19,477 per farm. West Virginia had the lowest with $870.

Lisbon Board Hikes Salary Of Principals

LISBON — The Lisbon Board of Education Tuesday night approved salary increases for the principals — $280 for the McKinley School official and $300 more for those at Lincoln School and the high school.

Salaries of bus drivers and custodians were discussed but no action was taken after figures showed their pay is comparable with other schools in the area for their work.

Purchase of five cafeteria tables for McKinley School at a cost of $2,015, was authorized. Delivery date was set at five months.

The board also discussed purchase of classroom furniture, 120 desks, library shelving, four teacher desks, an office desk and several filing cabinets for the new McKinley addition, which is hoped to be completed by the beginning of the September term.

No official action was taken, however, as the delivery time is less than for the cafeteria tables.

Supt. Russell Armitage discussed proposed improvements for Lincoln School next summer, including renovation of the shower room at Lincoln, installation of a service window in the cafeteria, gas service to two classrooms for science lab equipment and playground improvements.

The board requested bids and is expected to discuss them further at a later meeting.

The school policy book is being brought up to date by Supt. Armitage, since several changes had to be made due to state rulings, he said.

Appraisal made by Woodward & Co. of Columbiana for land needed for a playground at McKinley School, when the new addition of 14 rooms is completed, was discussed.

Several teacher contracts were discussed but no official action will be taken before April 1, Supt. Armitage said.

Board members were invited to the co-op office education banquet April 14. Due to the possibility of accidents if personal cars are used for the history class trip to Gettysburg, the board agreed to help finance chartering of two buses, providing arrangements can be made. The board will pay approximately $275 for the trip for the 62 students.

Edwin L. Kauffman, vice president, presided in the absence of Dr. Wade Bacon, president. Bills of $58,737.81 were ordered paid. Next meeting April 10 at 7:30 p. m.

College Students Tests Slated For Draft Deferment

Applications for the Selective Service college qualification Test April 17 are available for area college students at Draft Board 16 at Lisbon and Selective Service boards throughout Ohio, officials announced.

Col. Raymond Clouse, Ohio director of Selective Service, said the test will be given at more than 500 colleges in all 50 states.

Among the Ohio colleges are Ohio University, Bowling Green University, Youngstown University, Ohio State University, Muskingum College and many others.

Scores on the test will provide boards with evidence of aptitude for continued undergraduate and graduate study. The scores will not in themselves determine eligibility for deferment from service, but are considered with other evidence on whether to defer registrants for further study.

Applications must be postmarked not later than midnight March 27. Further information may be obtained from the local boards.

The test has been used since 1951 to aid local boards in determining questions of student deferment.

To be eligible, an applicant must be satisfactorily pursuing a full-time college course — undergraduate or graduate — leading to a degree. He need not be a student of a four-year college, but his entire course of study must be satisfactory for transfer of credits to a degree-granting institution.

They Walked With Christ

THE FIRST WISE MAN

"... behold, there came wise men from the east to Jerusalem."

—Matthew II: 1

There are many today who regard the story of the Wise Men, or Magi, as a charming Yuletide fiction. The Evangelist's narrative is true to the Christmas spirit, they say, but we should not take it literally.

For Christians who believe that the Gospel account is the inspired word of God, however, the story of the Star and of the sages who followed it to Jesus, is factually true.

Only Matthew among the four Gospel writers mentions the Magi and their journey to Bethlehem. And he does not tell us how many there were, what they were called, or exactly which countries they were from.

In the West, tradition has always indicated that there were three such Wise Men. This number is probably based upon the fact that Matthew mentions three gifts, which they brought to the Child Jesus.

In the East, on the other hand, legends say there were twelve, rather and three, Magi.

The legends of different countries have given the Wise Men various names. But the three most familiar to the West, from the seventh century onward, are Melchior, Gaspar, and Balthasar.

An early writer even ventures a description of the three. He says that Melchior, the First Wise Man, was "an old man, grey-haired, with a long full beard. He came bearing a gift of gold to the princely Infant."

But exactly who was this hoary man of learning, and what was the nature of his knowledge that even in a distant country he could discern what apparently remained hidden from all save the shepherds among the people in the immediate vicinity of the event in the Bethlehem stable?

Non-Biblical sources tell us that originally the Magi were a sect of Medes which worshipped God in the emblem of fire. Later, however, the name was applied to followers of the Persian reformer, Zoroaster, who restored the Magian system and introduced into it the principle of one supreme God.

The sect, members of which collected together in colleges, or centers of learning, were profound students of astrology, and were skilled in the interpretation of dreams.

As stargazers who constantly studied the heavens, and as men versed in the arts of divination, it is not surprising that they noted "his star in the east" and set out to find Him.

Sailor Takes Big Step When He Re-Enlists

EL CENTRO, Calif. (AP)—Sailor Frank Moncreif took a big step when he re-enlisted — about 6,000 feet.

He stepped out of a plane flying at that altitude Tuesday. So did Chief Warrant Officer Lewis T. Vinson. As they fell, Moncreif handed Vinson a baton. In it were his re-enlistment papers.

At 2,500 feet the men opened their parachutes and descended to a marker on the desert. There an enlistment officer signed Moncreif on for six more years.

Moncreif, 30, has been in the Navy seven years, most of it as an underwater demolition team member. He is now assigned to a Navy parachute exhibition team at el Centro Naval Air Facility. Vinson is the group's jumpmaster.

Students Due TB X-Rays

Thirteen positive reactors found in the 1,746 tuberculin patch tests given Midland public school students will receive chest X-ray examinations when the Pennsylvania Health Department's mobile unit visits Midland Tuesday. The patch test was given last week and read Friday.

Mrs. Margaret Glumac, school nurse, said there were five reactors among the high school students and eight among the elementary pupils.

Free chest X-rays for adults and the reactors will be given Tuesday by the unit, which is also sponsored by the Beaver County Tuberculosis Association. It will be located in front of Green's Television Electric Shop, 801 Midland Ave. Hours will be 1 to 5 and 6 to 9 p. m.

Only the reactor students will take the X-rays. Previously, seniors did not take the patch tests, only the X-rays. But this year they took the patch tests since the county association has discontinued its X-ray clinics at schools. School personnel must take the chest X-rays each year.

The county TB office said the state mobile unit will be in the county all next week. Any adult may obtain X-rays at the unit's various locations. The nearest clinic for South Side residents will be Monday when the unit will be located at the C. & L. Market at Brodhead Rd. and Main St., Aliquippa.

The county office said the Steelworkers Union at Midland and the Exchange Club at Aliquippa assisted with plans for the mobile unit visit to the two towns.

There's at least one "hidden benefit" in the heavy snow that hit East Liverpool Monday and Tuesday—St. Clair Ave.'s surface is "smooth" for the first time in months.

Tugboat Captain Wins Damages

CLEVELAND (AP) Damages of $70,171 have been awarded by a federal judge to Edward Strange, 70, a Fairport Harbor tugboat captain who was injured June 9, 1960, when waves from a government dredge caused his tug to lunge heavily.

Strange had been painting the outside of the pilot house on the tug Florida at the time. Testimony before U.S. District Court Judge James C. Connell was that the Florida was anchored securely in Grand River at Fairport when the dredge Hoffman passed.

Attorneys for Strange contended that careless handling of the dredge resulted in heavy swells and waves that hit the Florida, throwing Strange from the deck. Jammed between the tug and the dock, Strange suffered permanent injuries to his back, hips, pelvis and head, his attorneys claimed.

Wellsville Tavern Thieves Get Whisky

An undetermined amount of whisky was stolen from Pop's Tavern, 1701 Main St., Wellsville, between early Tuesday morning and evening.

Police said the burglar broke a side window to gain entrance. The whisky was removed from the backbar and storage cupboards.

The thief apparently put the bottles in empty beer cases to haul them out, police said.

Police said they do not know the exact amount but that it was "quite a lot."

3 Contracts Let On Palestine Job

EAST PALESTINE — The final three contracts for the city's $536,000 power plant improvement project were awarded Tuesday night by the Board of Control.

J. G. Madden & Son of East Palestine was given the contract for general construction of the foundation and other work for the boiler and turbine on its low offer of $84,887.

Gustav-Hirsch Co. of Pittsburgh was granted a $14,440 contract for electrical wiring and piping, and Huffman & Wolfe Co. of Columbus a $85,990 contract for the mechanical work.

The firms were among 17 companies whose offers were opened Feb. 21.

Clinton Man's Car Demolished By Train

The 1961 four-door sedan of Joseph W. Patterson of Clinton R. D. 1 was demolished when hit by a train about 6:50 a. m. today at the crossing at Cook's Ferry in Industry.

Patterson, a foreman in the Crucible Steel Co.'s forge shop, was stranded on the crossing when cars in front of him could not move because of the icy road or the westbound Route 68 traffic would not let them out. They had just left the Shippingport Ferry.

Patterson jumped out and ran up the tracks to flag the train but it was unable to stop until after it carried the car about 50 feet.

Hancock Group Airs Plans On Youth Camp

The Hancock County Conservation Committee continued to discuss plans for the annual Youth Conservation Camp when it met Tuesday night in New Cumberland.

St. Clair's 'Smooth' Under Heavy Snow

There's at least one "hidden benefit" in the heavy snow that hit East Liverpool Monday and Tuesday—St. Clair Ave.'s surface is "smooth" for the first time in months.

The police department today cited the lack of chuckholes in the busy street's pavement, pointing out they're all filled with snow and ice. But a thaw today will melt the snow and open up the numerous pavement faults again.

Area Roller Skaters Win In Competition

Several members of the Kay-Bee Roller Arena Figure Club won trophies in three divisions at competition Saturday in New Brighton. The event was sanctioned by RSROA.

Four members have passed proficiency tests, including Harpold and Peggy Weigand of East Liverpool, Henry Diekmann of Steubenville and Sally Engle of Aliquippa.

Weather Blamed For 4 Collisions

The State Highway Patrol at Lisbon said Tuesday at least four county traffic mishaps were blamed on weather.

A semi - trailer truck driven by Donald Evers, 40, of Alliance stalled on snow - covered Route 39 nine miles west of Wellsville and was struck from behind by another rig driven by Albert Dalton, 35, of Waynesburg at 2:30 a. m.

Leo Peri, 64, of 413 Jackson St. was cited after his car rammed the rear of another operated by Gus Cochran, 46, of R. D. 1 on the Y. & O. Rd. at Rock Camp Monday night. Cochran had halted for a stop sign.

Minor damage resulted in a collision on Route 45 just south of Salem Monday night when a car driven by Louis Kastanek, 71, of Salem pulled from a parking place and hit a car operated by Harley Welker, 54, of Lisbon R.D. 5.

Nepal means "land of the gods." More than 350 Hindu temples and Buddhist shrines stand in Katmandu alone.

Tugboat Captain Wins Damages

CLEVELAND (AP) Damages of $70,171 have been awarded by a federal judge to Edward Strange, 70, a Fairport Harbor tugboat captain who was injured June 9, 1960, when waves from a government dredge caused his tug to lunge heavily.

Strange had been painting the outside of the pilot house on the tug Florida at the time. Testimony before U.S. District Court Judge James C. Connell was that the Florida was anchored securely in Grand River at Fairport when the dredge Hoffman passed.

Attorneys for Strange contended that careless handling of the dredge resulted in heavy swells and waves that hit the Florida, throwing Strange from the deck. Jammed between the tug and the dock, Strange suffered permanent injuries to his back, hips, pelvis and head, his attorneys claimed.

City Purchases Small Structure For Use At Dump

To provide a temporary structure replacing another razed by fire last week at the landfill dump in Bloomfield, Safety - Service Director Robert Owen signed an agreement today with the State Highway Department under which the city will pay $1 for a building which the state acquired along the highway right-of-way in California Hollow.

The building at the dump was destroyed Feb. 26 in a fire blamed on an exploding oil heater. The city immediately began negotiations with the state to acquire a building it had purchased for the first stage of the Ohio River-Lake Erie Freeway.

The city will assume the responsibility for moving the 12-x-12 foot one-story frame building from its present site to the dump, the director explained.

"Because of the emergency situation confronting the city, the state expedited the sale of the building for our benefit," the director said. The structure had been scheduled to be razed or removed as part of the next phase of the highway construction along Routes 7 and 30.

Council also adopted legislation requiring the funds from the bond issue to be invested in a bank to draw interest.

It also approved a motion that funds from payments of utility bills will be placed in equal shares in the general fund and the fire department fund.

Volunteer firemen appeared to request authority to purchase hats, hoses and coats. The firemen were advised to obtain bids for the new equipment and present them at a later meeting.

Council recessed until Tuesday night when it will study the budget for 1962-63.

U.S. Blasts Rocket-Laden Observatory

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —A three-stage rocket vaulted skyward today in an effort to orbit a solar observatory designed to probe basic mysteries of the sun.

If successful, the observatory, nicknamed OSO for Orbiting Solar Observatory, will provide the most extensive data yet on how solar radiation affects the earth and how great a threat it is to manned flights deep into space.

Its assignment was to propel the odd-shaped 458-pound payload into a circular orbit about 350 miles above the earth.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said confirmation of orbit cannot be made until the package completes one 95-minute swing around the globe.

City Purchases Small Structure For Use At Dump

To provide a temporary structure replacing another razed by fire last week at the landfill dump in Bloomfield, Safety - Service Director Robert Owen signed an agreement today with the State Highway Department under which the city will pay $1 for a building which the state acquired along the highway right-of-way in California Hollow.

The building at the dump was destroyed Feb. 26 in a fire blamed on an exploding oil heater. The city immediately began negotiations with the state to acquire a building it had purchased for the first stage of the Ohio River-Lake Erie Freeway.

The city will assume the responsibility for moving the 12-x-12 foot one-story frame building from its present site to the dump, the director explained.

"Because of the emergency situation confronting the city, the state expedited the sale of the building for our benefit," the director said. The structure had been scheduled to be razed or removed as part of the next phase of the highway construction along Routes 7 and 30.

Volunteer firemen appeared to request authority to purchase hats, hoses and coats. The firemen were advised to obtain bids for the new equipment and present them at a later meeting.

U.S. Blasts Rocket-Laden Observatory

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —A three-stage rocket vaulted skyward today in an effort to orbit a solar observatory designed to probe basic mysteries of the sun.

If successful, the observatory, nicknamed OSO for Orbiting Solar Observatory, will provide the most extensive data yet on how solar radiation affects the earth and how great a threat it is to manned flights deep into space.

Its assignment was to propel the odd-shaped 458-pound payload into a circular orbit about 350 miles above the earth.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said confirmation of orbit cannot be made until the package completes one 95-minute swing around the globe.

Adams also complimented the post on meeting its membership quota. It is an "honor post" and was one of the first five in the state to reach its 1962 goal.

John Hunter of Wheeling, 1st District commander, also spoke briefly. Past commanders present included Charles Laughlin, Luis Marshall, William Schladen, Charles Huffman and Edward Brewer.

The auxiliary served the meal. Guests included Herbert Eddy of Newell Post 114 and James Cregar, commander of Post 374 of East Liverpool.

He will be the first university president selected to Mountain as an undergraduate. He was initiated Dec. 12, 1938, as a senior.

Hancock 4-H Will Conduct Fun Program Friday Night

A "Roundup of Fun" program Friday night at 7:30 in New Cumberland High School will highlight the observance of National 4-H Club Week in Hancock County.

The county's 22 clubs, listing 475 members, are participating in the observance through Saturday with special exhibits in store windows on the health theme of 1962, "Eye Cues."

Posters, public meetings, and the wearing of 4-H badges are also part of the week's observance, Mrs. Ruth McPherson, 4-H gent, said.

All club members and their families have been invited to the special fun program. Each club will participate in a health song contest.

Miss Sandra Vincent of the Monongahela Power Co. will present tips on proper lighting for better eyesight. Oliver Johnson, county agricultural agent, will screen a film on the eyes.

Miss Goldye Timberlake will lead recreation. Miss Janet Wilson, president of the Elwood club of Newell, will be mistress of ceremonies. Refreshments will be served by the County 4-H Leaders' Association.

"Boys and girls enrolled in the program in Hancock County have many doors of opportunity open to them," Mrs. McPherson said. "Recreation at monthly meetings, parties, song programs, and trips give opportunity to have fun and meet other young people. The youngsters also make new friends at meetings, county fairs and camps," she said.

Any boy or girl between 10 and 21 may join by agreeing to follow 4-H ideals and standards. It is a requirement that each member undertake at least one project from a wide variety offered.

The main requirement is "A willingness to learn by doing, and to make the best better," Mrs. McPherson explained.

Quadros Returns To Brazil, May Seek New Power

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) — Ex-President Janio Quadros makes his long-awaited return to Brazil today for what most people believe will be a new quest for political power. He has given no hint of his plans.

Quadros, whose sudden resignation last August brought Brazil to the verge of civil war, arrives with his family aboard the steamship Ruys at the coffee port of Santos, 210 miles southwest of Rio.

Friends, political allies and the usual turnout of the curious were expected to be on hand to welcome the 55-year-old leader back from his six months of self-imposed exile. No official red carpet reception was scheduled.

The Foreign Office reportedly dispatched a representative to extend protocol courtesies, but high government officials, including former members of Quadros' Cabinet, denied reports they would be on hand.

Quadros quit after eight months in the presidency blaming forces inside and outside the country which he said were hamstringing his policies. Brazil at the time was beset by economic ills and mounting political unrest. The situation has worsened.

The government that succeeded Quadros was born out of a hastily improvised parliamentary system forced on the nation by conservative military opposition to left-leaning Vice President Joao Goulart, who succeeded Quadros. The government has been unable to control the galloping inflation plaguing Brazil.

Long Distance Phoning In Ohio To Be Cheaper

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Long distance calls within Ohio generally will be cheaper after about May 1, the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. reports.

The firm said it has reached agreement with Ohio's Utilities Commission on rate reductions that will amount to $1.5 million a year. Ohio Bell will file a new rate schedule with the commission next week, with approval probable by May 1.

The key changes are these:

On station - to - station rates, customers will be able to place calls to any point in the state between 9 p.m. and 4:30 a.m. for a maximum initial period rate of 40 cents. (Existing reduced evening rates, beginning at 6 p.m., will remain in effect, but the new plan allows even further cuts after 9 p.m.)

Person-to-person rates after 6 p.m. will be reduced by amounts ranging from 10 cents to 50 cents per call for the initial period, or an average 15-cent reduction.

Charges will be lowered on station - to - station daytime calls over certain routes.

The plan follows a recent agreement under which certain expenses and carrying charges were transferred from the states to the interstate telephone network. That agreement was among the Federal Communications Commission, the Bell System and the National Association of Railroad and Utilities Commissioners.

The county's 22 clubs, listing 475 members, are participating in the observance through Saturday with special exhibits in store windows on the health theme of 1962, "Eye Cues."

Posters, public meetings, and the wearing of 4-H badges are also part of the week's observance, Mrs. Ruth McPherson, 4-H agent, said.

The main requirement is "A willingness to learn by doing, and to make the best better," Mrs. McPherson explained.

Quadros Returns To Brazil, May Seek New Power

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) — Ex-President Janio Quadros makes his long-awaited return to Brazil today for what most people believe will be a new quest for political power. He has given no hint of his plans.

Quadros, whose sudden resignation last August brought Brazil to the verge of civil war, arrives with his family aboard the steamship Ruys at the coffee port of Santos, 210 miles southwest of Rio.

Friends, political allies and the usual turnout of the curious were expected to be on hand to welcome the 55-year-old leader back from his six months of self-imposed exile. No official red carpet reception was scheduled.

The Foreign Office reportedly dispatched a representative to extend protocol courtesies, but high government officials, including former members of Quadros' Cabinet, denied reports they would be on hand.

Quadros quit after eight months in the presidency blaming forces inside and outside the country which he said were hamstringing his policies. Brazil at the time was beset by economic ills and mounting political unrest. The situation has worsened.

The government that succeeded Quadros was born out of a hastily improvised parliamentary system forced on the nation by conservative military opposition to left-leaning Vice President Joao Goulart, who succeeded Quadros. The government has been unable to control the galloping inflation plaguing Brazil.

Long Distance Phoning In Ohio To Be Cheaper

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Long distance calls within Ohio generally will be cheaper after about May 1, the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. reports.

The firm said it has reached agreement with Ohio's Utilities Commission on rate reductions that will amount to $1.5 million a year. Ohio Bell will file a new rate schedule with the commission next week, with approval probable by May 1.

The key changes are these:

On station - to - station rates, customers will be able to place calls to any point in the state between 9 p.m. and 4:30 a.m. for a maximum initial period rate of 40 cents. (Existing reduced evening rates, beginning at 6 p.m., will remain in effect, but the new plan allows even further cuts after 9 p.m.)

Person-to-person rates after 6 p.m. will be reduced by amounts ranging from 10 cents to 50 cents per call for the initial period, or an average 15-cent reduction.

Charges will be lowered on station - to - station daytime calls over certain routes.

The plan follows a recent agreement under which certain expenses and carrying charges were transferred from the states to the interstate telephone network. That agreement was among the Federal Communications Commission, the Bell System and the National Association of Railroad and Utilities Commissioners.

Work On New School Ahead

The Western Beaver County Board of Education was advised Monday evening by Frank A. Meredith, supervising principal, that construction of the new junior-senior high school in Industry is proceeding well ahead of schedule.

Terrazo floors are being poured and rooms prepared for plaster. Meredith was authorized to give specifications for movable equipment of the new school to the State Public School Building Authority for bidding purposes.

No action was taken on a discussion concerning the possibility of establishing a special education class to be operated by the county school office. A room has been designed in the school for a class of this type.

The board granted a request of Meredith to send questionnaires to residents of the district to determine interest in establishing a kindergarten.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I'm an attractive matron with a devoted husband, lovely children, beautiful home and many advantages which I fully appreciate. I also have a perpetual heartache. I can't forget the fellow I was in love with during my college days.

Please don't say this is ridiculous. I know it. I've been successful in pushing the memories out of my mind for several days at a time. Then they return, stronger than ever.

I haven't seen this man in years but I know he lives in a city about 300 miles away. I've considered going to see him (casually, of course), hoping that one look will put an end to my foolishness. But I'm afraid he may be more attractive than ever and then I'd be in for real trouble.

I need advice from someone who is sane. It is obvious that I am — AN ADDLE - BRAINED LADY.

Dear Addle - Brained Lady: The man in your mind is nothing like the fellow you knew in college and even less like the guy who lives 300 miles away. The years have screened out all his undesirable traits and magnified his attractive qualities.

And small wonder you envision him as such a dreamboat—the only contact you have with him is inside your head. If you had to live with this man—in the world of reality—washing his socks, picking up his clothes, putting up with his relatives, nursing his hangovers and stretching his pay check you'd soon come down to earth.

A Word To The Wise

Dear Ann: Frugal Fanny had better be careful or she may be sitting it out in jail or paying a costly fine. I refer to the woman who thought it was perfectly okay to drop Christmas cards into the mail boxes of the apartment tenants and thus save the price of the stamps.

For her — and for other Frugal Fannies who may be entertaining such notions—here is the law:

United States Criminal Code: Section 1725, Title 18. "Whosoever knowingly and willfully deposits any mailable matter . . . on which no postage has been paid . . . with intent to avoid payment of lawful postage thereon, shall for each such offense be fined not more than $300." —UNCLE'S LITTLE HELPER.

Sorry Now

Dear Ann: I took your advice 18 months ago and you solved my problem. But you created a problem worse than the one you solved. I'm sorry I listened to you.

My husband was a heavy drinker. He has a heart of gold but he could never quite make it home on payday with his check.

You suggested Alcoholics Anonymous. Well, it worked. He hasn't touched a drop in more than a year, but I liked him better the other way.

He has become very tight with money—won't even buy himself a lunch. He walks to work to save bus fare. He wants me to account for every dime I spend, even though I work and earn almost as much as he does.

He doesn't have a sense of humor any more and he isn't any fun. At least when he was drinking he was jolly. WHAT DO YOU SAY NOW?—MAD AT YOU.

Dear Mad: I say you have a pretty short memory. I remember your letter well and it was pathetic. Your husband used to forget where he lived and you had to go out at night checking the saloons to bring him home. You were a nervous wreck and had a terrible time holding your job because you were up all night with him.

His drinking was beginning to affect his health and you were afraid he would lose his job because of absenteeism. And you're complaining because he isn't jolly? Now YOU'RE the one who is sick!

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Farm Editor Dies

BLOOMINGTON, Ill. (AP)—Frank W. Bill, 67, farm editor of the Bloomington Pantagraph for more than 25 years, died Tuesday of a respiratory ailment. He was the son of the late A. J. Bill, also farm editor of the Pantagraph and believed to be one of the first farm editors of an American daily newspaper.

Elections Board Rules One Man Off Ballot

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Board of Elections has ruled one of two Joseph J. Horvaths off the Democratic primary election ballot. One Horvath is serving at present in the state legislature.

The legislator protested to the board against filing of a petition by his namesake, a railroad man, for the nomination for the same job. The board ruled Tuesday, not on Harvath's protest but on the basis of its own investigation, that the railroader's petition was insufficient for various technical reasons, including ommission of certain dates, names and titles.

Hope 3rd Set Of Twins Last One, Man Says

CINCINNATI (AP)—"We hope it's the last," Donald Schulten told a news reporter Tuesday.

He was referring to his wife's giving birth to a third set of twins—the only children he and his wife Grace have had. One pair was born in 1958, the second in 1960 and the third March 1.

Asked why he took six days to report the happy event, Schulten, 27, said he guessed he was just too excited to do it.

Surplus Food Issuance Set

Robert Bycroft, county welfare director, said the March distribution of surplus commodities will be held next week.

The distribution for city relief cases, soldiers and sailors commission clients and county welfare recipients will be held Tuesday at the Wellsville City Hall; March 14, Salem City Hall, March 15, East Liverpool Central Fire station, and March 16 at the warehouse in Lisbon for East Palestine cases.

Time of each will be 9 a.m. to noon, Bycroft said.

Over 32 tons of surplus food was distributed at the four points in February, according to Bycroft.

A total of 64,062 pounds of food was given to 3,338 persons.

A breakdown shows 6,507 pounds of dried milk, 3,332 of rice, 13,600 of flour, 8,990 of corn meal, 3,073 of lard, 3,276 of butter, 2,305 of dried eggs, 6,804 of beans, 6,696 of canned meat, 99 of rolled oats, 3,744 of rolled wheat (replacing oats), 1,436 of lard and 4,200 of cheese.

Ike Plans Flight To Mexico To Fish

PALM DESERT, Calif. (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower will fly to Mexico Thursday on a fishing trip that was delayed by a close friend's death.

Among those who planned to make the trip was W. Alton Jones, who was killed last week when a jet airliner crashed near New York's Idlewild Airport. Eisenhower returned to his vacation home here Monday after attending Jones' funeral in New York.

Dear Mad: I say you have a pretty short memory. I remember your letter well and it was pathetic. Your husband used to forget where he lived and you had to go out at night checking the saloons to bring him home. You were a nervous wreck and had a terrible time holding your job because you were up all night with him.

His drinking was beginning to affect his health and you were afraid he would lose his job because of absenteeism. And you're complaining because he isn't jolly? Now YOU'RE the one who is sick!

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Farm Editor Dies

BLOOMINGTON, Ill. (AP)—Frank W. Bill, 67, farm editor of the Bloomington Pantagraph for more than 25 years, died Tuesday of a respiratory ailment. He was the son of the late A. J. Bill, also farm editor of the Pantagraph and believed to be one of the first farm editors of an American daily newspaper.

SLEEK. Artful seaming lends a sleek, carved line to this spring coat. Done in light red wool, it is finished with tiny collar and half-mast sleeves.

Elections Board Rules One Man Off Ballot

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Board of Elections has ruled one of two Joseph J. Horvaths off the Democratic primary election ballot. One Horvath is serving at present in the state legislature.

The legislator protested to the board against filing of a petition by his namesake, a railroad man, for the nomination for the same job. The board ruled Tuesday, not on Harvath's protest but on the basis of its own investigation, that the railroader's petition was insufficient for various technical reasons, including ommission of certain dates, names and titles.

Hope 3rd Set Of Twins Last One, Man Says

CINCINNATI (AP)—"We hope it's the last," Donald Schulten told a news reporter Tuesday.

He was referring to his wife's giving birth to a third set of twins—the only children he and his wife Grace have had. One pair was born in 1958, the second in 1960 and the third March 1.

Asked why he took six days to report the happy event, Schulten, 27, said he guessed he was just too excited to do it.

Surplus Food Issuance Set

Robert Bycroft, county welfare director, said the March distribution of surplus commodities will be held next week.

The distribution for city relief cases, soldiers and sailors commission clients and county welfare recipients will be held Tuesday at the Wellsville City Hall; March 14, Salem City Hall, March 15, East Liverpool Central Fire station, and March 16 at the warehouse in Lisbon for East Palestine cases.

Time of each will be 9 a.m. to noon, Bycroft said.

Over 32 tons of surplus food was distributed at the four points in February, according to Bycroft.

A total of 64,062 pounds of food was given to 3,338 persons.

A breakdown shows 6,507 pounds of dried milk, 3,332 of rice, 13,600 of flour, 8,990 of corn meal, 3,073 of lard, 3,276 of butter, 2,305 of dried eggs, 6,804 of beans, 6,696 of canned meat, 99 of rolled oats, 3,744 of rolled wheat (replacing oats), 1,436 of lard and 4,200 of cheese.

Ike Plans Flight To Mexico To Fish

PALM DESERT, Calif. (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower will fly to Mexico Thursday on a fishing trip that was delayed by a close friend's death.

Among those who planned to make the trip was W. Alton Jones, who was killed last week when a jet airliner crashed near New York's Idlewild Airport. Eisenhower returned to his vacation home here Monday after attending Jones' funeral in New York.

Late U.S. Senator Bender Linked To Stock Fraud Plot

NEW YORK (AP) — The government charged at a Federal Court trial Tuesday that $100,000 was paid to the late Sen. George Bender, R-Ohio, to try to kill an investigation into a stock fraud conspiracy.

The allegation came from Asst. U.S. Atty. Gerald Walpin as he opened the government's case against 12 persons and four firms accused of fraud conspiracy involving the United Dye and Chemical Corp., now known as Chemoil Industries, Inc.

Bender at the time was said to have been assistant secretary of the interior.

The defense immediately demanded a mistrial, on grounds that Bender had been subjected posthumously to "false and inflammatory reflections."

Federal Judge William B. Herlands overruled the mistrial motion.

Walpin was winding up his opening trial statement when he referred to Samuel S. Garfield, a Clare, Mich., oil operator and one of the defendants.

The prosecutor said Garfield paid the money to Bender "to get this investigation quashed. . . to get Bender's intercession when he was a high government official."

Walpin claimed the $100,000 was paid with the knowledge of others in the case. He named two defendants as having shared responsibility for the payment—Virgil D. Dardi of New York, president of Chemoil, and Irving Pasternak of Denver, an oil investor.

An opening trial statement, Judge Herlands pointed out, is not evidence, but merely a summary of what the government hopes to prove. He dismissed the jury for the day while the mistrial motion was argued.

Bender died last June 16 at the age of 64. He went to the Senate in 1954 to fill out the unexpired term of the late Sen. Robert A. Taft, R., Ohio, but was beaten in 1956 when he sought election to a full term.

Dinah Shore Charges Mental Cruelty In Suit For Divorce

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Dinah Shore says she wants a divorce. That's about all she does say.

So was her press agent's announcement: "Miss Shore has filed for divorce. A property settlement has been reached, and an agreement has been made concerning custody of the children."

It requested that the children—Melissa Ann, 14, and John David, 7—be placed in Miss Shore's custody, with Montgomery granted visitation rights.

Miss Shore's attorney said, "The couple has agreed to keep all the details private." Newsmen couldn't locate Montgomery. Miss Shore was out of town.

1. The property settlement will probably run into the millions. Miss Shore, 44, makes about $10,000 a week. Montgomery, 45, has been grinding out lucrative adventure films and has his own furniture factory. Their home near Beverly Hills is a half-million-dollar showplace.

2. If the suit is as dull as the complaint, Superior Court will be missing a spectacular show. The fan magazines have splashed stories linking Montgomery with starlets half his age. He and Miss Shore have denied any romances.

A quiet suit is planned. It will be in a downtown court in about a month, and predictions are that Miss Shore will explain the end to 18 years' marriage this way: career conflicts kept them apart. Beyond that—no comment.

Dies Of Cancer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Dr. Mildred B. Fertman, 45, an Ohio State University alumna who became a widely known endocrinologist, died of cancer Tuesday. She retired from private practice a year ago to devote herself to cancer research.

DiSalle Seminars On Government Held Political

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—The series of seminars on state government held by Gov. Michael V. DiSalle in eight Ohio cities was political, Roger Cloud, Republican majority leader of the Ohio House of Representatives, said in a speech here.

Cloud told a GOP political school Tuesday he was almost certain DiSalle "looked upon them (the seminars) as being politically advantageous."

Declaring politics could not be divorced from the seminars, Cloud remarked: "To say they are devoid of political motive, well, I'm just not that naive. At times I lose a little patience with the governor."

Nothing is to be gained "by dramatizing a financial crisis which does not exist," said Rhodes in an apparent reference to DiSalle's seminars.

Pros And Cons Are Voiced At Canal Discussion

ASHTABULA, Ohio (AP) — If the Lake Erie-Ohio River Canal is constructed, $250 million would be spent in Ashtabula County to build locks and the Grand River Reservoir, a Youngstown speaker told 400 persons Tuesday night.

Speaking in favor of the canal at a panel discussion at Ashtabula Playhouse, Kenneth M. Lloyd, an attorney representing Interconnecting Waterways, Inc., and the Mahoning Valley Industrial Council, said:

"Acres of land will be exchanged for dollars, which will stimulate business in Ashtabula County." He said whole villages would be relocated, resulting in modern sewers and new foundations for buildings. He said this was a form of urban renewal.

Taking the opposite argument in the discussion was Michael A. Michele of Pittsburgh, representing the Mahoning Valley Industrial Council. He said:

"Youngstown interests have taken a $50 million stub-end canal approved in 1935 and parlayed it into $2.75 billion canal. Youngstown is exploiting Ashtabula County for securing the Grand River Reservoir."

GOP Candidate Says Youth Holds Vote Key

CLEVELAND (AP) — Charles E. Fry, candidate for the Republican nomination to the U.S. Senate, told the Greater Cleveland Young Republican Club Tuesday night that "youth provides optimism, the winning ingredient in a political campaign."

"Commentors who say our party is in the doldrums don't know young Republicans," said Fry, a state senator. "Our party is strong at all levels. We will increase our strength this year. Give us your ideas, your vigor, your sense of mission, and Republicans can have a victory in 1962."

Cleveland Firm Seen In Running For Pact

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Tank Plant is in the running for a new production contract for M113 troop carriers which could double its $70 million contracts for new military vehicles, Rep. William E. Minshall, R-Ohio, said Tuesday.

Minshall said in Washington that the Defense Department would make a decision on the new contract in two weeks.

Late U.S. Senator Bender Linked To Stock Fraud Plot

NEW YORK (AP) — The government charged at a Federal Court trial Tuesday that $100,000 was paid to the late Sen. George Bender, R-Ohio, to try to kill an investigation into a stock fraud conspiracy.

The allegation came from Asst. U.S. Atty. Gerald Walpin as he opened the government's case against 12 persons and four firms accused of fraud conspiracy involving the United Dye and Chemical Corp., now known as Chemoil Industries, Inc.

Bender at the time was said to have been assistant secretary of the interior.

The defense immediately demanded a mistrial, on grounds that Bender had been subjected posthumously to "false and inflammatory reflections."

Federal Judge William B. Herlands overruled the mistrial motion.

Walpin was winding up his opening trial statement when he referred to Samuel S. Garfield, a Clare, Mich., oil operator and one of the defendants.

The prosecutor said Garfield paid the money to Bender "to get this investigation quashed. . . to get Bender's intercession when he was a high government official."

Walpin claimed the $100,000 was paid with the knowledge of others in the case. He named two defendants as having shared responsibility for the payment—Virgil D. Dardi of New York, president of Chemoil, and Irving Pasternak of Denver, an oil investor.

An opening trial statement, Judge Herlands pointed out, is not evidence, but merely a summary of what the government hopes to prove. He dismissed the jury for the day while the mistrial motion was argued.

Bender died last June 16 at the age of 64. He went to the Senate in 1954 to fill out the unexpired term of the late Sen. Robert A. Taft, R., Ohio, but was beaten in 1956 when he sought election to a full term.

Dinah Shore Charges Mental Cruelty In Suit For Divorce

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Dinah Shore says she wants a divorce. That's about all she does say.

So was her press agent's announcement: "Miss Shore has filed for divorce. A property settlement has been reached, and an agreement has been made concerning custody of the children."

It requested that the children—Melissa Ann, 14, and John David, 7—be placed in Miss Shore's custody, with Montgomery granted visitation rights.

Miss Shore's attorney said, "The couple has agreed to keep all the details private." Newsmen couldn't locate Montgomery. Miss Shore was out of town.

1. The property settlement will probably run into the millions. Miss Shore, 44, makes about $10,000 a week. Montgomery, 45, has been grinding out lucrative adventure films and has his own furniture factory. Their home near Beverly Hills is a half-million-dollar showplace.

2. If the suit is as dull as the complaint, Superior Court will be missing a spectacular show. The fan magazines have splashed stories linking Montgomery with starlets half his age. He and Miss Shore have denied any romances.

A quiet suit is planned. It will be in a downtown court in about a month, and predictions are that Miss Shore will explain the end to 18 years' marriage this way: career conflicts kept them apart. Beyond that—no comment.

Dies Of Cancer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Dr. Mildred B. Fertman, 45, an Ohio State University alumna who became a widely known endocrinologist, died of cancer Tuesday. She retired from private practice a year ago to devote herself to cancer research.

DiSalle Seminars On Government Held Political

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—The series of seminars on state government held by Gov. Michael V. DiSalle in eight Ohio cities was political, Roger Cloud, Republican majority leader of the Ohio House of Representatives, said in a speech here.

Cloud told a GOP political school Tuesday he was almost certain DiSalle "looked upon them (the seminars) as being politically advantageous."

Declaring politics could not be divorced from the seminars, Cloud remarked: "To say they are devoid of political motive, well, I'm just not that naive. At times I lose a little patience with the governor."

Nothing is to be gained "by dramatizing a financial crisis which does not exist," said Rhodes in an apparent reference to DiSalle's seminars.

Pros And Cons Are Voiced At Canal Discussion

ASHTABULA, Ohio (AP) — If the Lake Erie-Ohio River Canal is constructed, $250 million would be spent in Ashtabula County to build locks and the Grand River Reservoir, a Youngstown speaker told 400 persons Tuesday night.

Speaking in favor of the canal at a panel discussion at Ashtabula Playhouse, Kenneth M. Lloyd, an attorney representing Interconnecting Waterways, Inc., and the Mahoning Valley Industrial Council, said:

"Acres of land will be exchanged for dollars, which will stimulate business in Ashtabula County." He said whole villages would be relocated, resulting in modern sewers and new foundations for buildings. He said this was a form of urban renewal.

Taking the opposite argument in the discussion was Michael A. Michele of Pittsburgh, representing the Mahoning Valley Industrial Council. He said:

"Youngstown interests have taken a $50 million stub-end canal approved in 1935 and parlayed it into $2.75 billion canal. Youngstown is exploiting Ashtabula County for securing the Grand River Reservoir."

GOP Candidate Says Youth Holds Vote Key

CLEVELAND (AP) — Charles E. Fry, candidate for the Republican nomination to the U.S. Senate, told the Greater Cleveland Young Republican Club Tuesday night that "youth provides optimism, the winning ingredient in a political campaign."

"Commentors who say our party is in the doldrums don't know young Republicans," said Fry, a state senator. "Our party is strong at all levels. We will increase our strength this year. Give us your ideas, your vigor, your sense of mission, and Republicans can have a victory in 1962."

200 Entered In County's Science Fair

About 200 students of the Columbiana County school system are registered for the county Science Fair Friday and Saturday at Beaver Local High School.

Walter Lineberry, Beaver Local science instructor and fair chairman, said Southern Local, United, Fairfield - Waterford and Beaver Local districts will be represented.

Judging of the exhibits will be conducted Friday at the gymnasium of the high school near Williamsport, and the fair will be open to the public Saturday from noon until 9 p. m.

Certificates will be awarded to students in the "Superior," "Excellent" and "Good" rating classes, Lineberry said.

The fair is divided into the Senior Division — for students of the 10th to 12th grades — with subdivisions of chemistry, biology, physics and mathematics, conservation and progressive (projects of over a year's preparation), and the Junior Division — for 7th, 8th and 9th graders — with general science exhibits.

3 Draw Fines For Speeding

Three drivers accused of speeding in a 25-mile zone in the freeway construction area in California Hollow were fined $10 and costs each today in Municipal Court when they entered guilty pleas before Judge Samuel M. Chertoff.

All cited Friday in a radar check made by the State Highway Patrol, they are Lester Gamble and Carl Young, both of R. D. 2, and Gale L. Williams of Lisbon R. D. 3.

Meanwhile, the judge ordered a continuance until Monday at 9 a. m. in a hearing for Edward Brown, 28, of New Castle R. D. 5, charged with reckless driving as an aftermath of a collision between his tractor - trailer and a train Feb. 24 at the Walnut St. crossing.

Brown pleaded not guilty at arraignment last Thursday and requested a continuance to obtain counsel. However, he returned to court this morning without an attorney. The judge ordered the continuance today because Asst. Solicitor Richard J. Clark, the prosecutor, was not present. Brown's $57.50 bond was continued.

A hearing also was set this morning for Leo Peri, 413 Jackson St., charged with failure to stop in the assured clear distance, but the defendant did not appear. The patrol cited Peri following a mishap Monday night at 6:25 on the Y. & O. Rd.

18 Freight Train Cars Derail, One With Poison Gas

ATHENS, Ohio (AP)—Eighteen cars of a New York Central freight train derailed three miles west of Athens this morning.

Railroad officials reported that the 15th car in a train 75 cars long jumped the rails and 17 others followed it off. Five or six, all empty, overturned but the rest remained upright.

One of the last to leave the rails was "a very dangerous car of poison gas," reported transportation superintendent A. L. Johnson in Columbus.

He said however that the car is upright, not damaged and can be rerailed easily. There is no more danger involved than if the car were on the rails, he said.

The train was on the way from Columbus to Norfolk, Va., with 42 loads and 33 empties.

There were no injuries and damage was confined to railroad property.

Jay Ends Holdout Siege With Cincy

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Jay, 26, a right-hander who shared NL honors for most victories during the 1961 campaign with Milwaukee's Warren Spahn when he compiled a 21-10 record finally was signed for $28,000 — about $13,000 more than he received last season.

His signing gave a much-needed lift to spirits at the Reds' camp, stunned by the accident to Gene Freese that likely will sideline the hard-hitting third baseman for three months. Freese fractured an ankle during Monday's intrasquad game.

Jay's salary boost did not equal the amount he demanded when he shocked the baseball world by offering to purchase his contract for first $150,000 and then $200,000 so he could become a free agent and peddle his talents elsewhere.

Joining the Reds last year after eight mediocre seasons with Milwaukee, Jay blossomed into the top hurler on the staff as Cincinnati won its first pennant in 20 years. He wanted to tap management for $32,000 as a just reward.

Jay said after signing that he was "satisfied with the contract and primed for another good season." Manager Fred Hutchinson was jubilant, saying, "I'm glad he's back. I feel like we've just picked up 21 more games."

General Manager Bill DeWitt said "I gave a little, and he gave a little. Now I hope Joey has another good year so he can get another good raise next time."

Also ending his holdout was relief specialist Don McMahon of Milwaukee, who became the last member of the Braves to agree to terms. McMahon, 6-4 with a 2.84 earned run average in 1961, received a slight pay boost.

New York Mets infielder Elio Chacon also agreed to terms, reducing the majors' holdout list to four players — headed by San Francisco slugger Orlando Cepeda and Minnesota pitcher Camilo Pascual. Also on the outside are Los Angeles Dodgers catcher Doug Camilli and St. Louis receiver Bob Herrera.

Sheffield Leads Pitt In Scoring

Cal Sheffield led all scorers with 375 points for a 16.3 average. He came within 25 points of scoring 400 points and if he continues his present rate, he could become the fourth-highest scorer in the school's history.

It was an average season for the Panthers who lost three of their last four games to eliminate any chances they might have had for a bid to the NIT. The final record was 12-11.

The Panthers should have a strong team next year although Coach Bob Timmons, who will be starting his tenth season, won't have a big man. The freshman team was ordinary although one or two players might help the varsity.

Baldwin Wins Point Honors At Wellsville

Baldwin missed both appearances of Wellsville in a holiday tournament in Midland because of ankle injuries. In regular season play, he scored 276 in 16 games for a 17.2 average.

Following in order are Ed Nelson, 6-2 junior, 155 points; Jim Powell, 5-8 junior, 126; Forrest Harris, 6-2 junior, 82, and Alvin Thompson, 5-10 junior, 75.

The Tigers posted an 8-10 record in regular season play and finished 9-11 overall in relinquishing their Sectional AA crown.

McDevitt completed his fifth year at the helm with an overall record of 59 victories and 44 defeats — almost identical to that of Thomas (Tink) Healey whom he succeeded in 1957. Healey's record was 59-47 overall.

Rocky Has 4-Point Program For Boxing

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP)—Rocky Marciano has a four-point program he thinks could help cure the ills of boxing in the United States.

The ex-heavyweight king says he'd like to be federal boxing czar so he could work for uniform rules in every state, a better withholding tax plan for boxers, government subsidy to help develop young fighters and insurance and pension protection for boxers.

Marciano, who retired undefeated, told a reporter he thinks the sport could be on the upgrade two years after a commissioner is named.

Ohio's Top High School Teams Still In Running

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's sports editors — newspaper and radio-television—did a great job of picking the top 10 teams in the final Associated Press high school basketball poll.

With 813 of the state's 933 teams eliminated in the "lose and out" tournaments leading to the state championships, 14 of the top 10 in Class AA and Class A are still in there firing.

Only ninth-place Huron of the Class AA contingent is missing. In Class A the absentees are Ames-Bern (4), Lima Perry (5), Dover St. Joseph (8), Houston (9) and Carlisle (10).

One of the elite list in Class AA saw action Tuesday night. Dayton Roosevelt, rated sixth, ran its record to 18-3 with a 71-52 verdict over Kettering Fairmont (19-3) in the Beavercreek District meet.

There were no Tuesday games in Class A, where the starting field of exactly 500 teams has been whittled to 56.

The Columbus District came up with a couple of surprises. Gahanna Lincoln (15-7) ended Grove City's 20-game winning streak—the second unbeaten foe to fall before the club. Reynoldsburg also stubbed its toe against the Gahanna team in the tournament.

Newark's Wildcats, back in 1936, went into tournament play with an 8-10 record and emerged with the state championship and a 16-10 mark—the poorest ever to capture the crown. The current 'Cats also started the long trek with 8-10, and Tuesday night claimed their fourth tourney conquest 59-43 over Columbus Watterson for a 12-10 record and a chance to duplicate the 1936 effort. Gahanna and Newark meet Thursday.

Canton McKinley, which has been in the state meet as many times as any school, fell by the wayside at Canton Tuesday night when Canton Lincoln (18-3) won 58-48 over the Bulldogs, who finished with 14-7.

Columbus East's 1951 champions stayed in the fight with an 11-11 record by defeating Columbus West 54-49. Cincinnati Withrow (19-1) showed power in a 79-66 win over Cincinnati Purcell, and Cincinnati McNichlas made it 18-2 with a 66-48 nod over St. Xavier. The victors meet Friday in the Cincinnati District.

With the 433 Class AA teams cut to 64 after Tuesday night's frays, nine former champions are still alive. In addition to Columbus East they are Newark (1936-38 - 43), Martins Ferry (1941), Zanesville (1926 - 55), Cleveland East Tech (1958-59), Middletown (1944-46 - 47 - 52-53-56-57), Xenia (1942), Dayton Roosevelt (1934-60; and Hamilton Garfield (1937-49-54).

Six former Class A winners are still in the fight. They are Miller City (1950), Ayersville (1957-61), Castalia Margaretta (1932), West Liberty Salem (1960), Arcanum (1956) and Columbiana (1947).

By Saturday night each division will be down to 16 teams, the qualifiers for next week's regional tournaments. Both the top 10 and former champion lists will be slashed by then, for many of the top-notchers run into each other this week.

Among the big ones assured in that category are ex-champions Martins Ferry vs. Zanesville Thursday night at Martins Ferry in Class AA, and second-ranked Alger vs. seventh-rated Fostoria St. Wendelin in Class A Friday at Tiffin. Beverly Fort Frye and Zanesville Rosecrans, both unbeaten, will meet Saturday in the New Concord District finals unless upset in the semi-finals. Three other Class A teams—Alger, Ayersville and Irondale Stanton Local—are unbeaten in Class A.

Cleveland East Tech, Hamilton Taft, Urbana and Mansfield St. Peter—the first four in that order in the final Associated Press poll—are the only clean clubs in Class AA.

Chisox Aparicio Eyes 7th Base-Theft Championship

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP) — Luis Aparicio, Mr. Go Go of the Chicago White Sox, will be shooting for a seventh straight base-stealing title in the American League in 1962. It took Ty Cobb 23 years to win it six times.

"The competition will be good," said Aparicio at the Sox training camp today. "Dick Howser of Kansas City is good. So is Jake Wood of Detroit and Zorro Versalles of Minnesota.

"If they are going to beat me they are going to have to run plenty because I am running. Al (Manager Al Lopez) gives me the sign to be ready when I think I have the jump.

"I never saw Ty Cobb. Everytime they talk about best ball player they always say Ty Cobb. I don't know if I can win seven times but I am going to try."

"Whitey Ford he is the toughest one," said Luis. "He has a real good move to first base. So has Bud Daley of the Yankees. Most left-handers have a good move. Of the right-handers the best are Hoyt Wilhelm, Paul Foytack and that new Detroit boy, Terry Fox."

The best arm among the catchers?

"That is easy. Earl Battey. He has a real strong arm. Put Gus Triandos next."

With Tony Kubek of the Yankees in the Army, it appears a cinch that Aparicio will be the All-Star shortstop again in the American League. His manager is his best booster.

"I always said Luis was the best in everything except range," said Lopez. "I always figured Glenn Wright of Pittsburgh had the best range of any shortstop I ever saw. But Luis has learned to go deep in that hole and throw out a man, just like Wright. I would have to say Luis now is the best I ever saw."

'Leave Howard Alone,' Is Word In LA Camp

VERO BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Orders in the Los Angeles Dodger camp are to leave Frank Howard strictly alone. The feeling among the brass is that too much advice has done more to confuse than help the big fellow.

Duke Snider, the Dodgers' elder statesman and team captain, is among those who think Howard has been a victim of too much advice. That, Snider says, is one of the reasons for the failure of the $109,000-bonus collegian to capitalize on his tremendous potential.

"I've heard it said that Frank is a stubborn kid who won't listen," said Snider. "I don't believe it. He's a nice kid. His trouble is that he listens to too many people. Everybody in the organization has tried to help him."

This is Howard's fifth year with the Dodgers although he has put in only one full season. When the 6-7, 245-pounder joined L.A. in '58, he was hailed as the next Babe Ruth. He had the size, the strength and the swing. His best so far was 23 home runs in 1960. Last year he boosted his batting average 28 points to .296 but his home run production fell to 15.

"Frank should concentrate on watching movies of his swing and then listen to just one guy instead of half a dozen," Snider said.

NCAA Postpones Action Until July On 2 New Groups

CHICAGO (AP)—Plans to form sports federations in track and field and gymnastics by the National Collegiate Athletic Association will be delayed until July 5.

Walter Byers, executive director of the NCAA, said Tuesday the delay was necessitated because the national high school group, which has endorsed the program, needs until July 5 to poll its constituents in regard to joining.

The announcement ended a three-day meeting and also threw out the possibility of a federation track meet in June in opposition to the Amateur Athletic Union championships.

In its battle with the AAU, the NCAA had hoped to put on a show of power by having the federation hold a meet on the same dates of the AAU meet. The AAU is the only international certifying body in this country.

Jay Ends Holdout Siege With Cincy

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Joey Jay, well-heeled oilman with a wealth of pitching talent as a cushion against inflation, ended his holdout siege and lifted the gloomy atmosphere pervading the training camp of Cincinnati's National League champion Reds.

Jay, 26, a right-hander who shared NL honors for most victories during the 1961 campaign with Milwaukee's Warren Spahn when he compiled a 21-10 record finally was signed for $28,000 — about $13,000 more than he received last season.

His signing gave a much-needed lift to spirits at the Reds' camp, stunned by the accident to Gene Freese that likely will sideline the hard-hitting third baseman for three months. Freese fractured an ankle during Monday's intrasquad game.

Jay's salary boost did not equal the amount he demanded when he shocked the baseball world by offering to purchase his contract for first $150,000 and then $200,000 so he could become a free agent and peddle his talents elsewhere.

Joining the Reds last year after eight mediocre seasons with Milwaukee, Jay blossomed into the top hurler on the staff as Cincinnati won its first pennant in 20 years. He wanted to tap management for $32,000 as a just reward.

Jay said after signing that he was "satisfied with the contract and primed for another good season." Manager Fred Hutchinson was jubilant, saying, "I'm glad he's back. I feel like we've just picked up 21 more games."

General Manager Bill DeWitt said "I gave a little, and he gave a little. Now I hope Joey has another good year so he can get another good raise next time."

Also ending his holdout was relief specialist Don McMahon of Milwaukee, who became the last member of the Braves to agree to terms. McMahon, 6-4 with a 2.84 earned run average in 1961, received a slight pay boost.

New York Mets infielder Elio Chacon also agreed to terms, reducing the majors' holdout list to four players — headed by San Francisco slugger Orlando Cepeda and Minnesota pitcher Camilo Pascual. Also on the outside are Los Angeles Dodgers catcher Doug Camilli and St. Louis receiver Bob Herrera.

Sheffield Leads Pitt In Scoring

Cal Sheffield led all scorers with 375 points for a 16.3 average. He came within 25 points of scoring 400 points and if he continues his present rate, he could become the fourth - highest scorer in the school's history.

Brian Generalovich tallied 343 points and should hit the 1,000 mark before he is graduated.

It was an average season for the Panthers who lost three of their last four games to eliminate any chances they might have had for a bid to the NIT. The final record was 12-11.

The only seniors on the squad who saw a lot of action were Bob Sankey who scored 86 points and Tom Maloney with 139 points.

The Panthers should have a strong team next year although Coach Bob Timmons, who will be starting his tenth season, won't have a big man. The freshman team was ordinary although one or two players might help the varsity.

Pitt will play nearly the same schedule including two games with Penn State, West Virginia and Westminster and single games with Temple, Purdue and Bucknell.

Southwest And Middle Atlantic

Playoff Contests Friday To Decide 2 Loop Titles

By ED CORRIGAN

Texas Tech faces Southern Methodist, and St. Joseph's of Philadelphia goes against Temple in showdown battles to decide the Southwest and Middle Atlantic Conference champions Friday night.

Along with the title will go coveted spots in the NCAA tournament. Texas Tech, the defending champion, and Southern Methodist both won their final Southwest Conference games Tuesday night to wind up the regular season with identical 11-3 league records.

Neither had it easy. Texas Tech barely got past Rice, 60-58, by virtue of converting 20 of 25 free throws. Southern Methodist beat Arkansas, 84-81, after the Razorbacks had pulled to within one point of a tie with a minute to go.

St. Joseph's had things even tougher. The Hawks had to overcome a 16-point half-time deficit to defeat Lafayette, 78-68, and pull into a tie with Temple, each with a 9-1 league record. Temple already had finished its season.

The Southwest playoff will be held in Fort Worth and the Mid-Atlantic in Philadelphia.

Texas Tech and Southern Methodist played each other twice during the regular season, and there was little to choose between them. Tech won the first game, 69-63, at Southern Methodist. SMU came right back and won the second, 68-63, at Tech.

The loser of the Texas Tech-Southern Methodist playoff is finished for the year. But the Middle Atlantic second-place team gets a spot in the National Invitation Tournament in New York. That will be the 11th NIT team, The 12th will be the loser of the Missouri Valley Conference playoff between Cincinnati and Bradley Monday night. Victor of that one goes to the NCAA.

Texas edged Texas Christian, 71-68, and Texas A&M coasted to an 84-61 victory over Baylor. It marked the Aggies' 24th straight home-court decision. Sienna ran its winning streak to nine with a 77-54 triumph over St. Peter's of Jersey City.

Steubenville Forfeits Tilt To Ashland

By The Associated Press

Mid-Ohio League champion Ashland scored its easiest triumph Tuesday night, but the Eagles may run into a buzzsaw tonight when they meet Defiance for the NAIA District 22 playoff crown.

The Eagles won by forfeit over Steubenville when the Barons failed to make the trip to Ashland for the NAIA semifinal because of the heavy Eastern Ohio snow. The Rev. Kevin Keelan, president at Steubenville, said he knew a number of students would want to attend the game, and he didn't want them to chance driving over hazardous roads.

The home court advantage didn't work out for Ohio Northern in the other semifinal. Defiance, which finished third this year as defending Mid - Ohio champion, clipped league runner-up Northern 74-73.

The Yellow Jackets (16-6) traded the lead with the Polar Bears (18-6) until 8:50 remained. Then Defiance took a 57-56 lead and was never headed.

In Tuesday night's only other Ohio game, Fenn (6-13) beat Western Reserve 65-62. The Foxes' Weldon Kytle scored 21 points in the season finale, giving him 363—nine better than the school record set last year by Tony Fedor.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—"The Americans are going to be plenty tough to beat in this tournament," Lloyd Roubell said today.

"But," added Roubell, a former player for four professional teams in the United States, "the difference between our two teams may be in the goal-tending. I've heard that the American goalies are not too good. If that's true, we could have a pretty sizable edge."

The Canadians' netminder is Harold (Boat) Hurley, an experienced international competitor. The American goalies are Mike Larson of the University of Minnesota and Jim Hogue of Malden, Mass., who played at Boston College last season. Neither has appeared in a world championship.

The 14-nation competition opens Thursday when the United States meets Norway and Canada faces Finland in night games.

Bills' Owner Testifies In NFL Hearing

BALTIMORE (AP)—Ralph C. Wilson, president and owner of the American Football League's Buffalo Bills, testifed Tuesday he was told by the president of the Detroit Lions that the National Football League was interested in expanding only to warmer climates.

Wilson said the Detroit Lions executive, Edwin Anderson, also told him if he would drop his Buffalo franchise, Anderson would help him get a substantial interest in an NFL franchise at Miami, Fla.

Wilson, who appeared as a witness for the AFL in its $10 million antitrust suit against the NFL, said he tried without success to implement an AFL franchise in Miami before going to Buffalo.

He failed, he said, because he was unable to lease the Orange Bowl there for home games.

Wilson said he was "surprised and shocked" when he learned the NFL was going to grant a franchise in Minneapolis-St. Paul — where an AFL franchise had already been awarded.

Rangers' Rally Nips Wings, 5-4

DETROIT (AP) — Refusing to die in what amounted to a do-or-die game, the New York Rangers were three points up on the Detroit Red Wings today for fourth place—and the last playoff spot — in the National Hockey League.

With only a one-point edge going into the game and apparently teetering on the brink of defeat with a 2-4 deficit midway in the final period, the Rangers tore the Red Wings apart and won 5-4 on a three-goal burst Tuesday night.

The rest of the NHL was idle.

Despite their loss, the Red Wings still have a chance to oust the Rangers from the playoffs, in which Montreal, Toronto and Chicago already have nailed down berths.

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — The Cleveland Indians played their first baseball game of the year Tuesday. The exhibition intra-squad game was only six innings, but pitchers Sam McDowell and Barry Latman stole the show as the Parkers demolished the Katts 11-0.

The 1962 trapping season on beaver has come to an end. Although I do not have the final count as this is being written, 110 pelts have been sealed already. This exceeds last years take of 52 beavers.

Of the 110 taken, only 9 were removed from spots where they were considered a nuisance by the landowner.

That seems to indicate that the majority of the beavers do no harm. In that case beavers are here to stay and a new fur bearer has been added to the list of Ohio's animals. Under proper management, there is the probability that an annual trapping season will be in order. This will be determined by the proper wildlife officials.

SUCKER fishermen are active already where they can find open waters in the streams.

Most early sucker fishing occurs in the headquaters of the Mahoning River in Knox Township, where the stream flows out of Lake Placentia and north to Route 62. The big sucker run usually occurs some time in April. The fish being caught now are wintering over in certain pools.

With all the robins and blackbirds returning north so early in the season, you would think spring was here if it weren't for the snow. It is a delightful thought though to look forward to spring mushroom picking within the next 30 days.

THIS IS the time of the year when I think feeding the songbirds is important. Birds that winter over in Ohio are capable of helping themselves. On the other hand, insect and green vegetation eaters are bound to go hungry until the permanent thaws arrive.

Such food as suet, specked apples or any kind of fruit makes good eating for robins in particular. Don't get the idea that scattering a few bread crumbs is sufficient for meat eaters. You can get discarded suet at most any grocery store where fresh meat is sold. Even the outer leaves of lettuce is good, providing it doesn't freeze and wilt.

I would like to remind all persons with wild animals and wild birds in possession that March 15 is the deadline to get permits renewed. For some reason they are slow coming in. Blame no one but yourself if you get in a jam by not obeying the laws pertaining to wildlife.

Pupils Honor Cage Team

Midland High School students held a half-day celebration Tuesday afternoon to honor the basketball team for winning the WPIAL Section 8 title in its first undefeated season.

Walters attended a meeting and dinner of the Beaver County Principals' Association Monday evening at New Brighton High School. He is president.

The National Merit Schlarship test scheduled Tuesday was postponed to next Tuesday due to the snow.

Raymond Stowitzky, guidance director, left Tuesday to help with the evaluation of schools at Latrobe, Pa., the rest of the week. He will speak at Beaver Falls High School next Wednesday.

Mrs. Dorothy Shovlin, head of the commercial department, left today for Allentown for the funeral of her grandmother.

Forty boys will attend an aerospace educational seminar March 16 at Geneva College, accompanied by William Hickman, head of the math department, and George Mastrovich, head of the science department.

Celtics Need To Win Last 5 For Record

By The Associated Press

The Boston Celtics, starting with tonight's game against the Philadelphia Warriors, need to win their last five games of the regular National Basketball Association season for a season record in victories.

The Celtics, aiming at their record of 59 triumphs set in the 1959-60 season, stayed stalled at 55 Tuesday night when they lost to the New York Knickerbockers at New York for the fourth straight time. The Knicks, in last place in the Eastern Division Boston dominates year after year, trailed by 10 points with 8½ minutes to play, then rallied for a 113-106 victory in the only NBA game of the night.

Althea Gibson Sets Goal As 'New Babe'

NEW YORK (AP)—Althea Gibson, who retired as queen of all tennis, fixed her sights today on a new goal—she wants to become the "new Babe."

She aspired, she says, to be the best woman golfer in the world and match the feats of the late Babe Didrikson Zaharias. Furthermore, she has no doubts she can do it.

"It's no secret the Babe always has been an inspiration to me," the tall Harlem girl said.

"I have a God-given talent for being able to do things with a ball. I have gone as far as I can in tennis. Now I intend to do the same thing in golf."

Detroit Team Takes Lead In ABC Classic

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — Continental Bowl of Detroit took first place in the classic division of the American Bowling Congress tournament Tuesday night, shattering records in the process.

The team, composed of members of the Detroit Thunderbirds of the National Bowling League, rolled the best six game total in the two year history of the ABC professional category, 6103.

Continental's had series of 3049 Monday and 3054 Tuesday night. Billy Golembiewski set a record for the best individual performance in the team event Tuesday night with 711.

20,000 Added To West Virginia Jobless Ranks

CHARLESTON — A total of 20,000 West Virginians were added to the ranks of unemployed between mid-December and mid-January to boost the state's jobless ranks to 84,200, the Department of Employment Security said today.

The unemployed represented 13.8 per cent of the state's labor force.

At mid-January, the DES, said the state's total civilian labor force was estimated at 611,500, a drop of 3,400 from mid-December and 25,800 below the previous year.

Total employed dropped to 527,300 for an over-the-month loss of 23,400, the DES report showed.

Seasonal influences were blamed for the release of 14,600 from non-agricultural wage and salary employment. Manufacturing posted a loss of 900 workers, but remained 3,900 above the mid-January, 1961 figure.

The DES said a loss of 400 workers in bituminous mining, coupled with a shorter work week, indicated a slackening demand for the fuel. Inclement weather affected construction as 3,400 workers were dropped from payrolls, the DES added.

At the same time, the DES said the average factory worker earned a record $101.26 per week at mid-January, a 9.4 per cent increase over January, 1961.

Out Of The Air

By ALAN GILL

Bird, Mussin, Horse

You've heard of that old parlor sport, haven't you, in which your friends are categorized as bird, muffin or horse? To the sensitive, it should be explained that the classifications are not a libel upon one's beauty, sex appeal or table manners.

Alan Gill

Rather, they describe the cut of your jib — whether you're pointy-faced, round-faced, long-faced. Thus, President Kennedy is a "bird" married to a most fetching "muffin." And Miss Dinah Shore, if she'll forgive me for saying so, is a "horse," the most attractive filly now gracing our television screens.

I've grown accustomed to that long and lovely face of hers. I am enamored of those great big eyes, that great big smile. (When she opens her mouth — like Betty Furness opening a refrigerator door — a light goes on inside.)

BUT WHAT really has enchained me forever to Miss Dinah is, fellow prisoners, her voice. After Ella Fitzgerald's, it's the sweetest voice heard in the land.

As she sings (and she sang it the other night) "When the Red, Red Robin Comes Bob, Bob, Bobbin' Along," there's a throb, throb, throbbin' that goes on in her throat that makes me forget all my worries.

The conviction that I am Dinah Shore's fella stays with me while — at least until the late news.

Dinah Shore is, on more than one count, unlike all the other little pussycats who sing for a living. Almost alone among them, she seems to have read the words before she sings them.

SHE CARESSES the pretty words, narrows her eyelids just a bit with the pain of the sad words, and fills up with emotion when the theme is love triumphant. "Belting out" a song is hardly her style.

Alone among them, it seems, she has excellent taste in popular music. Oh, sure, she may start out with a thing called "In Other Words," but you can bet on it that she'll wind up with "Love Walked In."

I get the feeling that Miss Dinah, given a free hand, would restrict her repertoire to Rodgers and Hart, Gershwin, Porter and Kern, with no interlopers along the way.

ON THE SUBJECT of Dinah Shore's shiny-clean personality, we are sure to have our differences. I know a pleasant, well-adjusted lady who, at the sight of Miss Shore, wants to punch her in the nose; and you may share that lady's attitude.

Me, I want to wrap Dinah Shore in a shopping bag and take her home.

Finally, there is the girl's generosity. Her guests enjoy an almost vulgarly large portion of the spotlight; and one of the guests is inevitably a girl singer of copious talent.

If Dinah is tempted to nudge this rival into the shadows, she resists the urge with a most admirable strength of mind. She even allows her girl guests to change their dresses once in awhile.

"The Dinah Shore Show" is certainly easy on the eyes as well as the ears, the sets always are stunning, the camera work is first rate and the choral background seems to keep the oo-oo-oo's down to a respectable minimum.

ON A RECENT NIGHT (an off night) the guests were Keely Smith, about whom I have a blind spot; George Chakiris, who sings and dances well; and Vincent Edwards.

Mr. Edwards, putting aside his "Ben Casey" grumpiness, displayed a wan smile, a strong voice and almost no charm.

From time to time during this particular show on this particular night, I flipped over to the special, "Winter Carnival at Sun Valley," and caught an exciting slalom race, an unsettling night club act and Louis Armstrong.

The vapor clouds that escaped from Mr. Armstrong's mouth in that cold setting were big enough to hide a dirigible in. Satchmo, teamed with Roberta Peters for a rousing "Sunny Side of the Street," must have melted the snow right up to the top of Mount Baldy.

John Manning, 51, owner of the tavern told police he shot Wallace in self defense. Detectives were questioning Manning.

Officer Who Headed Klumpp Probe Dies

CINCINNATI (AP)—Lt. Charles E. Martin, 46, who headed Cincinnati police's investigation of the Edythe Klumpp murder case in 1958, died Tuesday night in General Hospital.

Hospital attaches said the officer died of complications following an operation for ulcers last Wednesday.

Crop Penalty Plan Outlined

Hancock County farmers who have excess wheat acreage were reminded today that failure to dispose of the excess in accordance with the program provisions could have a number of adverse effects — on the farmer's pocketbook and his farm's acreage history.

Carl R. Allison of Pughtown, chairman of the County Agricultural, Stabilization and Conservation Committee, said such a wheat grower not only would be ineligible for price support and payments he might otherwise have earned in 1962, but he would also be subject to marketing quota penalties, and his farm's future wheat allotments might be reduced.

He explained that excess wheat results when the grower does not comply with the farm wheat allotment, or the marketing quota exemption acreage if this is larger. The marketing quota exemption acreage is the smaller of either 13.5 acres, or the highest acreage of wheat on the farm in any of the 1959, 1960 or 1961 crop years.

He reminded that farmers have only until March 15 to take the first step in participating in the 1962 corn program. Cash payments will again be made to farmers who are not growing corn this year.

If acreage reports are filed for 1959 and 1960 before March 15, farmers are eligible for an advance cash payment and the remainder, later in the summer.

Prior Service Plan Adopted By Air Force

T.Sgt. James Lee, city Air Force recruiter, said today that a new prior service program now in effect offers opportunities to many persons who have had previous military training.

The new regulation has expanded the Air Force "needed skill list" to 150 job specialties. Heretofore, many otherwise eligible persons were barred from enlistment because their skills were not on the "needed list" which consisted mostly of highly technical and specialized jobs.

The new list includes a requirement for men in such fields as metalworking, construction, utilities, transportation, food service, supply, administration, personnel, Air Police and medical.

Details on the program may be obtained by calling Sgt. Lee at FU 6-6181, or at his office in the City Hall.

One Jailbreaker Nabbed, Second Still At Large

TROY, Ohio (AP)—Jailbreaker Horace E. Patton was back in Miami County jail here, nabbed about 40 miles northwest of here by a municipal patrolman after one day's freedom.

Western Ohio authorities continued a search for one of the two men who escaped Monday night—and who made another escape Tuesday night when Patton was captured in Celina, Mercer County.

At large was Robert P. Broderick, 31, of Piqua, who apparently dodged two shots fired by the Celina policeman who had arrested him and Patton. Police consider Broderick dangerous.

The third escapee, Charles Hewitt, 34, of Troy, was taken to a hospital Monday night after getting only a short distance from the jail. Both his heels were broken in a leap from a roof, and he telephoned the jail for help.

Jailbreaking charges have been filed against all three. There is some suspicion a fourth party may have helped the fugitives.

An impromptu talk of the early years in his long career with the J. C. Penney Co. was presented by George F. Mueller for fellow members of the Rotary Club at Tuesday afternoon's meeting in the Travelers Hotel.

Manager of the local Penney Co. store, Mueller substituted for Dr. John Carrigg of Steubenville, whose trip was postponed because of the snowstorm.

Dr. Carrigg is head of the history department of the College of Steubenville, and a Republican candidate for 18th District congressman in the May 8 primary.

Bird, Mussin, Horse

You've heard of that old parlor sport, haven't you, in which your friends are categorized as bird, muffin or horse? To the sensitive, it should be explained that the classifications are not a libel upon one's beauty, sex appeal or table manners.

Rather, they describe the cut of your jib — whether you're pointy-faced, round-faced, long-faced. Thus, President Kennedy is a "bird" married to a most fetching "muffin." And Miss Dinah Shore, if she'll forgive me for saying so, is a "horse," the most attractive filly now gracing our television screens.

I've grown accustomed to that long and lovely face of hers. I am enamored of those great big eyes, that great big smile. (When she opens her mouth — like Betty Furness opening a refrigerator door — a light goes on inside.)

BUT WHAT really has enchained me forever to Miss Dinah is, fellow prisoners, her voice. After Ella Fitzgerald's, it's the sweetest voice heard in the land.

As she sings (and she sang it the other night) "When the Red, Red Robin Comes Bob, Bob, Bobbin' Along," there's a throb, throb, throbbin' that goes on in her throat that makes me forget all my worries.

The conviction that I am Dinah Shore's fella stays with me while — at least until the late news.

Dinah Shore is, on more than one count, unlike all the other little pussycats who sing for a living. Almost alone among them, she seems to have read the words before she sings them.

SHE CARESSES the pretty words, narrows her eyelids just a bit with the pain of the sad words, and fills up with emotion when the theme is love triumphant. "Belting out" a song is hardly her style.

Alone among them, it seems, she has excellent taste in popular music. Oh, sure, she may start out with a thing called "In Other Words," but you can bet on it that she'll wind up with "Love Walked In."

I get the feeling that Miss Dinah, given a free hand, would restrict her repertoire to Rodgers and Hart, Gershwin, Porter and Kern, with no interlopers along the way.

ON THE SUBJECT of Dinah Shore's shiny-clean personality, we are sure to have our differences. I know a pleasant, well-adjusted lady who, at the sight of Miss Shore, wants to punch her in the nose; and you may share that lady's attitude.

Me, I want to wrap Dinah Shore in a shopping bag and take her home.

Finally, there is the girl's generosity. Her guests enjoy an almost vulgarly large portion of the spotlight; and one of the guests is inevitably a girl singer of copious talent.

If Dinah is tempted to nudge this rival into the shadows, she resists the urge with a most admirable strength of mind. She even allows her girl guests to change their dresses once in awhile.

"The Dinah Shore Show" is certainly easy on the eyes as well as the ears, the sets always are stunning, the camera work is first rate and the choral background seems to keep the oo-oo-oo's down to a respectable minimum.

ON A RECENT NIGHT (an off night) the guests were Keely Smith, about whom I have a blind spot; George Chakiris, who sings and dances well; and Vincent Edwards.

Mr. Edwards, putting aside his "Ben Casey" grumpiness, displayed a wan smile, a strong voice and almost no charm.

From time to time during this particular show on this particular night, I flipped over to the special, "Winter Carnival at Sun Valley," and caught an exciting slalom race, an unsettling night club act and Louis Armstrong.

The vapor clouds that escaped from Mr. Armstrong's mouth in that cold setting were big enough to hide a dirigible in. Satchmo, teamed with Roberta Peters for a rousing "Sunny Side of the Street," must have melted the snow right up to the top of Mount Baldy.

But — complaining, always complaining — I'm stuck with the conviction that television fun, like poker, belongs indoors.

Crop Penalty Plan Outlined

Hancock County farmers who have excess wheat acreage were reminded today that failure to dispose of the excess in accordance with the program provisions could have a number of adverse effects — on the farmer's pocketbook and his farm's acreage history.

Carl R. Allison of Pughtown, chairman of the County Agricultural, Stabilization and Conservation Committee, said such a wheat grower not only would be ineligible for price support and payments he might otherwise have earned in 1962, but he would also be subject to marketing quota penalties, and his farm's future wheat allotments might be reduced.

He explained that excess wheat results when the grower does not comply with the farm wheat allotment, or the marketing quota exemption acreage if this is larger. The marketing quota exemption acreage is the smaller of either 13.5 acres, or the highest acreage of wheat on the farm in any of the 1959, 1960 or 1961 crop years.

He reminded that farmers have only until March 15 to take the first step in participating in the 1962 corn program. Cash payments will again be made to farmers who are not growing corn this year.

If acreage reports are filed for 1959 and 1960 before March 15, farmers are eligible for an advance cash payment and the remainder, later in the summer.

Prior Service Plan Adopted By Air Force

T.Sgt. James Lee, city Air Force recruiter, said today that a new prior service program now in effect offers opportunities to many persons who have had previous military training.

The new regulation has expanded the Air Force "needed skill list" to 150 job specialties. Heretofore, many otherwise eligible persons were barred from enlistment because their skills were not on the "needed list" which consisted mostly of highly technical and specialized jobs.

The new list includes a requirement for men in such fields as metalworking, construction, utilities, transportation, food service, supply, administration, personnel, Air Police and medical.

Details on the program may be obtained by calling Sgt. Lee at FU 6-6181, or at his office in the City Hall.

One Jailbreaker Nabbed, Second Still At Large

TROY, Ohio (AP)—Jailbreaker Horace E. Patton was back in Miami County jail here, nabbed about 40 miles northwest of here by a municipal patrolman after one day's freedom.

Western Ohio authorities continued a search for one of the two men who escaped Monday night—and who made another escape Tuesday night when Patton was captured in Celina, Mercer County.

At large was Robert P. Broderick, 31, of Piqua, who apparently dodged two shots fired by the Celina policeman who had arrested him and Patton. Police consider Broderick dangerous.

The third escapee, Charles Hewitt, 34, of Troy, was taken to a hospital Monday night after getting only a short distance from the jail. Both his heels were broken in a leap from a roof, and he telephoned the jail for help.

Jailbreaking charges have been filed against all three. There is some suspicion a fourth party may have helped the fugitives.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

'Thinking Slim' Can Bring Trimness

Fresh ideas can spark the imagination. So put this fascinating idea through your mental alembic. Start thinking slim and picturing yourself at beautiful normal weight. This way of thinking can be unexpectedly effective and surprisingly energizing.

Ida Jean Kain

The debonair screen star, Cary Grant, keeps lean and lithe by "thinking thin", as he terms it. The technique is to see yourself as thin and you will be thin. It won't happen all at once, but if you see yourself thin in your mind's eye, you will find yourself disliking fattening food, is the way he explains it.

HE COULD scarcely carry out that role with such aplomb if he pictured himself portly and plodding.

Now to drop down from the stars to mere mortals. The picture of yourself which you hold in your mind's eye is most important, for that image tends to be developed.

According to the experts, the best time to practice picturing yourself the way you want to become, is just prior to falling to sleep at night. A dramatic way to picture is to flash a blank screen on your mind.

You are to play the starring role. In your imagination, flash on the screen a motion picture of yourself...there you are walking down the avenue in you're Easter finery. You are wearing an outfit a size slimmer. . .and you look simply smashing!

Now, just as you are drifting off...stretch, and in your inner mind, see yourself carrying on with this streamlining action when you awaken in the morning. Tomorrow morning stretch-bends will be a natural.

This is a potent technique for getting yourself to do what you want to do. But do not confuse creative visualizing with wishful thinking. One is woolgathering... which gets you nowhere. Creative imaging is concentrating your mind on what you want.

There is intent and purpose behind it. In short, it is tied in with a goal. When you believe you can achieve and picture yourself succeeding, all the forces of your personality are focused toward this aim.

OPEN YOUR eyes to what a new pattern of thinking can do for you. Then act out in your mind's eye your new dynamic thought pattern. This mental rehearsal helps you to work toward your goal.

Goal is the key word. Working toward a goal sustains your attention. When you look forward to something you want to come true and strongly believe it will come true...you make it come true.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Number Of Unwed Mothers Growing

Imogene was an only child. She had earned high grades in school. She was talented and skilled in instrumental music. Her parents took it for granted that she would go to college and they could easily afford to send her. But near the end of her sophomore year Imogene informed her parents that she was pregnant. With slight variations, there are thousands of similar tragedies to teen-age girls and their parents. The number of unmarried girls from 15 to 17 years of age giving birth to babies last year was about 84,000. They were not all from so-called good homes but many of them were, and the proportion of such is growing year by year, just as the total has been growing.

Dr. Garry Meyers

LAST YEAR 576 girls, all under 16, dropped out of school in Chicago because of pregnancy.

In Washington, D.C., one out of five babies is born out of wedlock, a large percentage to teenage girls. In one city hospital recently, six girls, none over 13, were confined in one ward labeled "the nursery".

Nation - wide, more than half the babies born to mothers under 15 are illegitimate. The rate for girls 15 to 17 is about one in four; for girls 18 to 19, one in nine. They live on both sides of the tracks, are from all races and religions and from every economic and educational level.

Considering the probable causes of these growing tragedies, the author notes the national and international tensions; the increasing temptations — more youngsters who have cars, more who drive and drink, more families moving, more homes breaking, more parent-child conflicts.

THE AUTHOR ALSO says that in this age of permissiveness not enough parents are protecting their teen - age children, not enough are laying down the law to them.

Like most other writers on this subject, this author, while urging parents to say No to their teenagers, overlooks the folly of such advice unless the parents have established adequate control of these youths from their very early years.

How can parents of the teenager say No with effect; how can they protect youth, if they have not effectively controlled them in much earlier years, taught and practiced them in respect for No from the time they began to toddle?

My bulletins, "Answering Child's Questions About Sex" and "How Juvenile Delinquency Can Be Curbed", may be had by sending a self - addressed stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Weirton Man Faces Jury

A formal charge of attempted murder has been filed against a Weirton man in connection with the stabbing of a companion from Steubenville early Sunday morning in Hancock County.

The victim, Joseph Jordan, 20, of Steubenville, is in "satisfactory" condition today in Weirton General Hospital with four stab wounds that Hancock County sheriff's deputies said were inflicted in a scuffle.

Arraigned Monday afternoon before Squire John D. Herron in New Cumberland, Robinson waived preliminary hearing and was bound over to the April Grand Jury under $5,000 bond.

Deputies said Jordan was stabbed four times in a scuffle with Robinson as they were returning from a tavern in Wellsville where they appeared with a rock 'n roll and twist band.

Piecing together the story, deputies said the pair apparently got into an argument over a girl while in the car and stopped along Route 66 below Newell to settle their differences.

Deputies said a penknife definitely was used in the alleged assault, although an investigation has failed to turn up the 2½-inch blade.

The incident occurred about 3 a. m. Sunday, according to authorities. Robinson has been unable to raise bond and remains in Hancock County Jail.

Funeral Services Set

CINCINNATI (AP) — Funeral services for Morison Remich Waite, 95, long-time Cincinnati attorney and civic figure, will be held Friday at Calvary Episcopal Church. Waite died Tuesday. He was a former president of the Cincinnati Bar Association.

Pittsburgh Man Wins Payment In Airport Case

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court has decided a property owner forced to move from his home because of low-flying airplanes from a nearby airport is entitled to compensation.

The decision was in the case of Thomas N. Griggs, who sought compensation from Allegheny County, owner and operator of the Greater Pittsburgh Airport.

Griggs said planes zoomed over his house as low as 11.36 feet above the roof, shook plaster from ceilings and walls, and made conversation in the house impossible. He said occupants were unable to sleep "even with ear plugs and sleeping pills," and in fear for their lives, finally moved away.

A Board of Viewers, set up under Pennsylvania law, awarded Griggs $12,690 against the county. That was set aside, however, by the Pennsylvania Supreme Court. It ruled there had not been an unconstitutional taking by the county of the airspace above the Griggs property. It suggested Griggs press trespass suits against owners or operators of aircraft. Griggs appealed to the U.S. Supreme Court, asking that the county be held liable for compensation.

Work Slated Soon On New Bendix Plant

CINCINNATI (AP)—Work on a new Bendix Corp. plant just north of here will begin as soon as possible, says L.E. Rasmussen, general manager of Bendix's Cincinnati division.

Bendix has announced it purchased a 46 acre site along Interstate 275. Rasmussen said the new plant will be occupied this year. The Cincinnati division of Bendix makes devices for detecting radiation and nuclear fallout.

Hotel Operator Fined In Bet Stamp Case

CINCINNATI (AP) — A suburban hotel operator has been fined $400 in U.S. District Court of accepting bets without having bought a federal wagering stamp.

The attorney for Mrs. Ruth Medosch, 36, the defendant, said he would appeal the case. Mrs. Medosch was arrested Dec. 14 when federal officers raided her Oakley Hotel.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

'Thinking Slim' Can Bring Trimness

Fresh ideas can spark the imagination. So put this fascinating idea through your mental alembic. Start thinking slim and picturing yourself at beautiful normal weight. This way of thinking can be unexpectedly effective and surprisingly energizing.

Ida Jean Kain

The debonair screen star, Cary Grant, keeps lean and lithe by "thinking thin", as he terms it. The technique is to see yourself as thin and you will be thin. It won't happen all at once, but if you see yourself thin in your mind's eye, you will find yourself disliking fattening food, is the way he explains it.

HE COULD scarcely carry out that role with such aplomb if he pictured himself portly and plodding.

Now to drop down from the stars to mere mortals. The picture of yourself which you hold in your mind's eye is most important, for that image tends to be developed.

According to the experts, the best time to practice picturing yourself the way you want to become, is just prior to falling to sleep at night. A dramatic way to picture is to flash a blank screen on your mind.

You are to play the starring role. In your imagination, flash on the screen a motion picture of yourself...there you are walking down the avenue in you're Easter finery. You are wearing an outfit a size slimmer. . .and you look simply smashing!

Now, just as you are drifting off...stretch, and in your inner mind, see yourself carrying on with this streamlining action when you awaken in the morning. Tomorrow morning stretch-bends will be a natural.

This is a potent technique for getting yourself to do what you want to do. But do not confuse creative visualizing with wishful thinking. One is woolgathering... which gets you nowhere. Creative imaging is concentrating your mind on what you want.

There is intent and purpose behind it. In short, it is tied in with a goal. When you believe you can achieve and picture yourself succeeding, all the forces of your personality are focused toward this aim.

OPEN YOUR eyes to what a new pattern of thinking can do for you. Then act out in your mind's eye your new dynamic thought pattern. This mental rehearsal helps you to work toward your goal.

Goal is the key word. Working toward a goal sustains your attention. When you look forward to something you want to come true and strongly believe it will come true...you make it come true.

Number Of Unwed Mothers Growing

Imogene was an only child. She had earned high grades in school. She was talented and skilled in instrumental music. Her parents took it for granted that she would go to college and they could easily afford to send her. But near the end of her sophomore year Imogene informed her parents that she was pregnant. With slight variations, there are thousands of similar tragedies to teen-age girls and their parents. The number of unmarried girls from 15 to 17 years of age giving birth to babies last year was about 84,000. They were not all from so-called good homes but many of them were, and the proportion of such is growing year by year, just as the total has been growing.

LAST YEAR 576 girls, all under 16, dropped out of school in Chicago because of pregnancy.

In Washington, D.C., one out of five babies is born out of wedlock, a large percentage to teen-age girls. In one city hospital recently, six girls, none over 13, were confined in one ward labeled "the nursery".

Nation - wide, more than half the babies born to mothers under 15 are illegitimate. The rate for girls 15 to 17 is about one in four; for girls 18 to 19, one in nine. They live on both sides of the tracks, are from all races and religions and from every economic and educational level.

Considering the probable causes of these growing tragedies, the author notes the national and international tensions; the increasing temptations — more youngsters who have cars, more who drive and drink, more families moving, more homes breaking, more parent-child conflicts.

THE AUTHOR ALSO says that in this age of permissiveness not enough parents are protecting their teen - age children, not enough are laying down the law to them.

Like most other writers on this subject, this author, while urging parents to say No to their teenagers, overlooks the folly of such advice unless the parents have established adequate control of these youths from their very early years.

How can parents of the teenager say No with effect; how can they protect youth, if they have not effectively controlled them in much earlier years, taught and practiced them in respect for No from the time they began to toddle?

More on this tomorrow.

Pittsburgh Man Wins Payment In Airport Case

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court has decided a property owner forced to move from his home because of low-flying airplanes from a nearby airport is entitled to compensation.

The decision was in the case of Thomas N. Griggs, who sought compensation from Allegheny County, owner and operator of the Greater Pittsburgh Airport.

Griggs said planes zoomed over his house as low as 11.36 feet above the roof, shook plaster from ceilings and walls, and made conversation in the house impossible. He said occupants were unable to sleep "even with ear plugs and sleeping pills," and in fear for their lives, finally moved away.

A Board of Viewers, set up under Pennsylvania law, awarded Griggs $12,690 against the county. That was set aside, however, by the Pennsylvania Supreme Court. It ruled there had not been an unconstitutional taking by the county of the airspace above the Griggs property. It suggested Griggs press trespass suits against owners or operators of aircraft. Griggs appealed to the U.S. Supreme Court, asking that the county be held liable for compensation.

Work Slated Soon On New Bendix Plant

CINCINNATI (AP)—Work on a new Bendix Corp. plant just north of here will begin as soon as possible, says L.E. Rasmussen, general manager of Bendix's Cincinnati division.

Bendix has announced it purchased a 46 acre site along Interstate 275. Rasmussen said the new plant will be occupied this year. The Cincinnati division of Bendix makes devices for detecting radiation and nuclear fallout.

Hotel Operator Fined In Bet Stamp Case

CINCINNATI (AP) — A suburban hotel operator has been fined $400 in U.S. District Court of accepting bets without having bought a federal wagering stamp.

The attorney for Mrs. Ruth Medosch, 36, the defendant, said he would appeal the case. Mrs. Medosch was arrested Dec. 14 when federal officers raided her Oakley Hotel.

Weirton Man Faces Jury

A formal charge of attempted murder has been filed against a Weirton man in connection with the stabbing of a companion from Steubenville early Sunday morning in Hancock County.

The victim, Joseph Jordan, 20, of Steubenville, is in "satisfactory" condition today in Weirton General Hospital with four stab wounds that Hancock County sheriff's deputies said were inflicted in a scuffle.

Arraigned Monday afternoon before Squire John D. Herron in New Cumberland, Robinson waived preliminary hearing and was bound over to the April Grand Jury under $5,000 bond.

Deputies said Jordan was stabbed four times in a scuffle with Robinson as they were returning from a tavern in Wellsville where they appeared with a rock 'n roll and twist band.

Piecing together the story, deputies said the pair apparently got into an argument over a girl while in the car and stopped along Route 66 below Newell to settle their differences.

Deputies said a penknife definitely was used in the alleged assault, although an investigation has failed to turn up the 2½-inch blade.

The incident occurred about 3 a. m. Sunday, according to authorities. Robinson has been unable to raise bond and remains in Hancock County Jail.

YAWNING

QUESTION: What causes people to yawn?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: Most of the things the body does without our conscious help are done from a special need. For example, a person feels pain when he puts his hand on a hot stove. If he didn't feel the pain, he might keep his hand on the stove indefinitely, not realizing that his hand is being hurt. The pain tells him that his hand is in danger and that he should jerk it back off of the stove. Yawning is like that. We yawn because our body is not getting enough oxygen. The enormous amount of air taken in with a yawn satisfies the body's need for oxygen. It is very easy for people to yawn. All they have to do is to watch someone else yawn and suddenly they find themselves doing the same thing. Sometimes the sound of someone else's yawn will set them to doing it. A warm room with closed windows is conducive to yawning. We yawn more often if we are sitting around than if we are active. Yawning can be very embarrassing sometimes, such as when it is done in front of company.

FOR YOU TO DO: Next time you feel yourself begin to yawn, try this experiment. Stiffen your facial muscles. Remember that the yawn is your body's way of telling you that you need more oxygen. Then breathe in heartily a couple of times. Once you have mastered the art of avoiding yawning, you can use this mehtod when you feel the sudden need to yawn in class or in company.
